

LIVING

Hi!

Last time, I was talking about the girls David dated in high school—and did THAT ever start something! At least two girls who had thought that they were the only girl in David's life at that time have renewed their acquaintance, and they weren't exactly happy! If one little article talking about three or four years ago could do all that, I hate to think what THIS one's going to cause!

Because this one's about right now. The girls in David's life at this very moment—what he likes, what he looks for, what he hates. I hope it doesn't surprise too many young ladies!

HE'S GROWN UP

David's grown up quite a bit since high school, which is only natural, I guess, and his tastes have changed some. The girl who really turns him on at this time in his life, is a girl who is really natural—natural personality, natural beauty. He can't stand girls who force themselves to be someone they're not so he'll have a higher opinion of them, or girls who pretend to know all sorts of famous people because they think that'll impress him. That's what he means by natural personality.

And he's not easy to fool, either; Now that he's got the show going for him, there are lots of girls who want to be with him for just that reason—either because it does their egos good to be seen with him, or because they've got careers of their own and they think it'll help!

SENSITIVE TO OTHERS

Lots of these girls are very good at their game, too. They've got the act down so well that most people would think they meant every word they say—but not David! He's very aware, very tuned in, and it usually only takes a few minutes of conversation for him to figure out if there's a game going on—and when he does, he calls them on it right away! That's the last that girl will ever see of David Cassidy!

Actually, he likes it when a girl's not afraid to criticize him. David's not perfect, you know (you do know, don't you?) and he knows he's wrong from time to time. When he is, he certainly doesn't want the girl to pretend he's right! He's attracted to someone who's honest with him and will tell him what

This month: Sam talks about the girls in David's life today—how he picks the girls he dates, why he stays away from Hollywood starlets and how he's changed his views on girls and love!
