

that you would ever believe! Oh, it was incredible! I used to look forward to those big holidays when all the family would come over!

37. What is your favorite of all the TV shows you've appeared on?

I'm very critical of my own performances and when I see myself on TV I'm usually not too happy. I always feel I could have done better, but they say that's a good attitude. Of all those I've appeared on I'd have to say I liked my performance on "Bonanza" best.

38. Did you have any favorite toys as a child?

Yes, I did have a teddy bear that was one of my favorites. I had a clown that was like a pillow and it had a nose that you wound and it was a musical pillow. If a musical pillow makes sense! It had a red nose and it was one of my favorite things.

39. What else can you remember?

When I was a bit older I was given a sled that I really liked. My friends and I used to go sleigh-riding a lot in West Orange, New Jersey.

40. Do you think you're moody or generally pretty happy?

I'm generally pretty happy, but I do have my moods. There are just certain things here on the set and at home that will set me off, things I find hard to cope with, or things that might rub me the wrong way.

41. What will put you in a really good mood?

Being with people I like. Honesty. Doing things I like to do, like playing the guitar.

42. What do you think is your most admirable virtue?

I'm rational. I'm a very rational human being. I can usually look at things logically.

43. How do you like to see girls dressed?

I like to see them in feminine things that are sort of loose. Loose meaning free. I really get turned off when I see girls hung up in garters and really packed in with girdles! I like flowing clothes.

44. What do you think of the styles for women now?

I like them, except the shoes. I don't like the big, clunky shoes.

45. What about midi-skirts—do you like them?

No, I hate them! I really like to look at legs, I've got to admit it!

46. Who are some of your favorite recording artists?

I like Jeff Beck and some of the other heavies. Sometimes I turn on that heavy music in the morning to help wake me up, and it really does the job!

47. What line of show business was your mother in when you were younger?

She did a lot of singing back then and appeared in musical comedies on Broadway.

48. Since your father was away on numerous acting assignments, did you ever go away with your mother while she'd work?

Yes, I'd go along with her many times in the summer when she would be touring.

49. Do you ever like to visit psychedelic shops?

Yes, they're kind of fun! Every now
