

and then I like to pick up posters or candles if I can find some unusual ones.

50. When you started school how did you like it?

School was never one of my favorite things. I had other interests that would occupy my mind.

51. What were some of your interests?
I liked all kinds of sports and was starting to get more into music at that time. I played guitar and drums.

52. Since you weren't too fond of your younger years in school, what did you think of your high school days?

I liked that better because first of all, I attended three high schools—University, Hamilton and then I graduated from Rexford. So I met lots of new people who I liked. Also, the high schools offered more—I belonged to some clubs and got more involved with my music and formed some groups.

53. Were you nervous performing with your first groups?

No, not usually, and I'm glad about that! I was concerned whether or not the people would like our music, but I didn't let it bother me too much.

54. What would you like to do if you had more free time?

I'd like to get in a lot of traveling if time would permit. And I'd like to try it alone—see things myself, go where I want when I feel like it, and just be responsible for myself the whole time.

55. You were born under the sign of Aries. Do you attach any importance to astrology?

Not really. It's an interesting subject, but I would never regard it too seriously. I think everyone makes their own destiny. The stars can't control what you do or what might happen.

56. Do you like to see girls wearing make-up?

I think a girl should determine for herself what suits her best. A little bit of make-up can be very attractive because it highlights a girl's features, but it shouldn't be overdone. Girls should look natural at all times.

57. When it comes to meals, what do you like to eat?

Almost anything, depending on where I am. I especially like lobster and pizza. If we're working late I'll go to a nearby restaurant and order prime rib or steak usually. After filming is over for the day I'm too tired to fix anything elaborate, so I usually make fishsticks or eat something small.

58. What attracts you first about a girl?
I always liked a girl that's sweet-looking and has a nice disposition. I don't like phoniness, but if they're sincere, I couldn't ask for more!

59. What turned you on to dry roasted cashew nuts?

Actually, it was Mr. Peanut, you know, that little Planters peanut man with the skinny legs and glasses! I always liked him.
