

DAVID CASSIDY- MEET

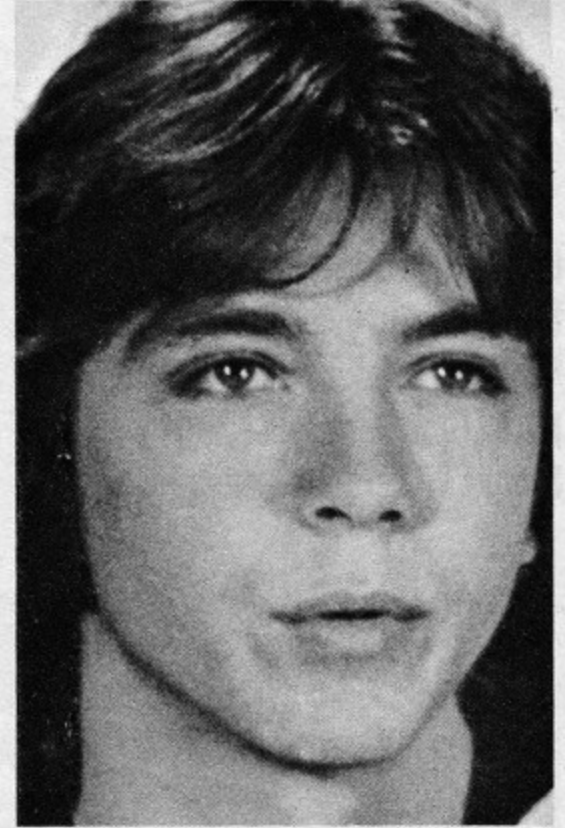

DAVID'S HAIR

David's hair is a lustrous, shiny, medium brown shade. For awhile, its length varied from a conservative trim to super long. (He wore it very long on the NBC-TV Ironside segment that he did.) When he first started doing The Partridge Family, David's hair was shorter than it is on the later segments. Though he does not part his hair, it has a natural part down the center and it usually falls into side-bangs on either side of his face. It has a very slight natural wave and at the nape of his neck his hair curls forward slightly.

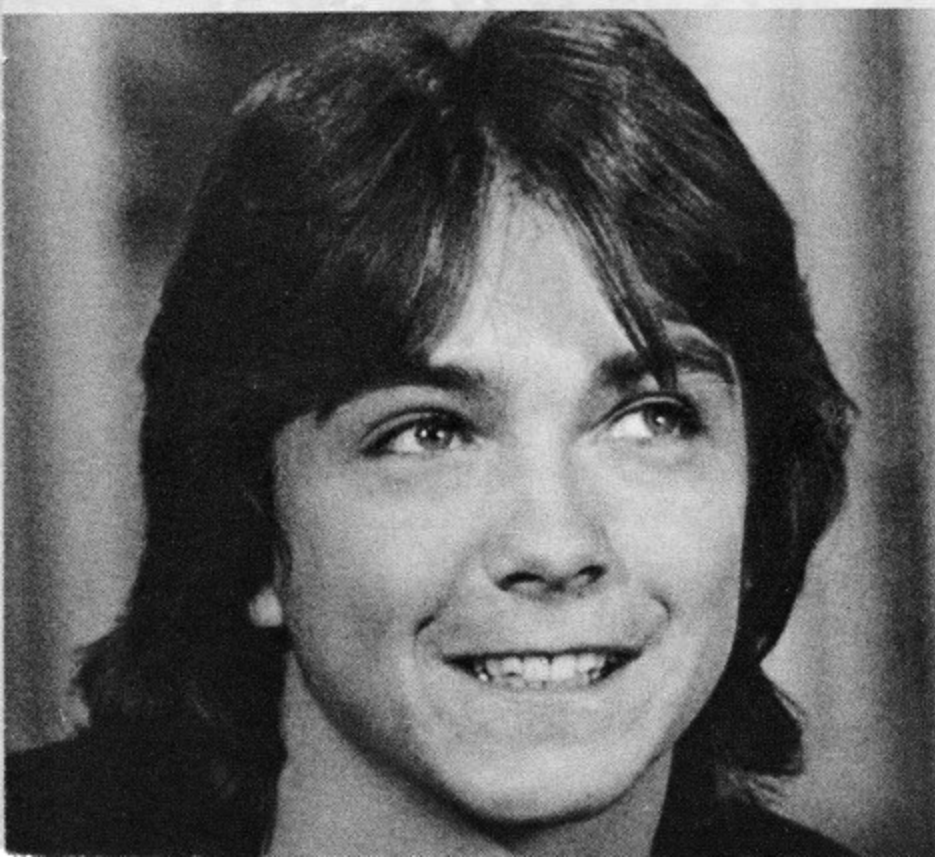

DAVID'S EYES

David's eyes are hazel — which means they're brownish, bluish, green with flecks of grey and amber. Actually, David's hazel eyes seem to change color depending on his mood, temperament, the weather or the color of clothes he's wearing. David "speaks" a great deal with his eyes and their range is from sensual to sparkly. Sometimes he gets a dreamy faraway look in his eyes, which makes you wish you were wherever David is, with him, at that very moment.

DAVID'S MOUTH

David's slightly crooked teeth are his trademark. They're the kind of teeth you hate when you're growing up, but later you dig them cos they're yours and depict your personality. He has an enchanting and gleaming white smile. David's lips are very expressive. For instance, sometimes you see him purse them thoughtfully. Later, they'll be spread into a broad, happy smile — and even later they'll be slightly opened as though he were about to speak or perhaps kiss someone.

DAVID'S PERSONALITY

David's personality ranges from quiet to moody to introspective to thoughtful to talkative to humorous. He's never aggressive, loud, forceful, nor does he ever take anything for granted. David's moods are elusive and you never know exactly what is coming next. But that in itself is quite challenging and exciting. However, he doesn't blow first hot and then cold, and he never imposes his introspection or dark moods upon anyone else. When David is quiet and silent, he usually prefers to be by himself to think things out. When he gets himself together, he returns bright and cheerful as though nothing had happened. Generally, David laughs a lot. He has a quick, fast, but rather subtle charm and he loves, loves, loves girls who are warm and cheerful and who like to laugh along with him.

But we're getting ahead of our story for that's telling how you can be David's girl. Well, if you'd really like to know how you can actually be David's girl, read on to the next page.
