Just look at what can happen in one short month! David gave his very first concerts in Seattle and Portland... the networks finally decided on their new fall TV schedules... the Osmonds want to adopt one of YOU... and more!

Doing live concerts was a brand-new experience for David, and at first he had very mixed feelings about it. "Before I went onstage, I was scared, but as soon as things got going, it was terrific!" he confided.

Another first for David was coming into direct contact with thousands of his fans all at one time! At the parties after each concert he kept shaking his head, saying, "I never knew how many girls there were who even knew me!"

Not everything went according to schedule. The weather in Seattle was so bad that the plane almost didn't land, and for a while the instruments didn't arrive! But David's roommate and best friend Sam was there to keep things running smoothly, and he did a great job. I saw Sam just before he left and I asked him if he thought the fans would recognize him. "No chance," he grinned, "because I just shaved off my moustache!" He was wrong, however, because he was mobbed for autographs!

Among the people who went along with David was FaVE's photographer Kenny Lieu, who did a fantastic job of photographing everything that happened! For exclusive pics, see page 74!

Here's the schedule of David's future concerts up to this minute: He'll do two shows on May 15th (just before this issue is on sale) at the Portland Auditorium in Portland, and another on August 2 at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center in Saratoga, New York. But David's plans include many more, so we'll keep you posted on dates and places because we know you'd all like to see him in person!

The fall TV season looks good, starting off with Bobby Sherman's series on ABC Saturdays at 8 p.m. Everybody was so happy that the show sold, because even though it looked like a sure thing, you never know what the sponsors will decide! While I'm writing this, they still haven't decided on a name for the show. "One suggestion is 'The Bobby Sherman Show,'" Bobby told me last week, "but I think that would sound like kind of an ego trip,
