

You know that your love for David Cassidy is deep and true. The gifts and letters you send him show how much you care, and David knows he can depend on you; that you will always be there when he needs you. But no one ever asked David how he felt about you, or about the joys and responsibilities of being loved and admired by thousands and thousands of teens. No one asked, that is, until FLIP's Carol Deck sat down with him recently to find out and came away an hour later with . . .

DAVID'S CONFESSION!

