

probably won't see a lot of each other—but friends.

And the latest word on Bobby's series, is that if it is sold, it may follow "The Partridge Family" on Friday nights. Wouldn't that be something—to see David and Bobby every Friday night?!

BOBBY ANSWERS THE RUMORS!

When Bobby heard that rumors about a feud between him and David had started to circulate, he called FLIP's Carol Deck and told her:

"Many people seem to think David and I are in some kind of competition, but I don't see it that way at all. There's plenty of room around for both of us. I'm sure that we share a great many fans, and I think that's great—to be able to love more than one person.

"I don't feel 'threatened' by David and I don't think David feels 'threatened' by me.

"We met, we worked together, we got along great together, and I think we produced a pretty good show. I just hope all of you like it!

"But really, David and I are not best friends, nor are we enemies. We just happen to be two young guys who both sing and act, and I think there's plenty of room around for both of us."
