

Dear FLIP,

My parents bought me "The Partridge Family Album" for my 13th birthday. When I opened the package, my eyes nearly popped out!! The songs are super-cool, super-groovy and also—SUPER-CASSIDY!! The songs are so beautiful, I cry every time I play them! I also have to keep a blanket around me to keep from getting cold chill-bumps! If you don't want to miss out on a good thing, buy this album!

Dear FLIP,

I'm so glad to find that someone else has these imagined dreams that I have. The article in your February issue of FLIP, "A Very Special Letter from a FLIP Reader," said it all so well. But the writer of that special letter left out my absolute fav—Jack Wild. So I decided to tell you my Jack Wild fantasy, in hopes that it would make up for her lack. I hope you will find room to print it, as I know a lot of Jack Wild fans who will become very disappointed Jack Wild fans if you don't.

This one takes place in my house. I go into my bedroom to do some homework before supper. Pretty soon, Mom yells "Supper's ready," and I open my door to go downstairs, only to find Jack Wild standing there. He says, "Hello Mate, 'ow are yer?" and then takes me downstairs. My family laughingly explains that he came up here as a sort of surprise advance birthday present. After supper, Jack asks me if I want to go for a walk in the snow, and I accept his invitation gladly. We walk and walk and talk of many things (which it would take a book to write about). Then we walk back to my house. I know he must leave soon, but before he does he leans over and lightly touches my lips with his out there in the cold white snow, under the stars...

Dear FLIP,

I read that some people cut out the pics they find in FLIP and pin them up on their walls! Well the pinning up is okay, it's the cutting out I don't like! I mean, how can anyone ever cut up one issue of FLIP? Because FLIP magazines are put together too well to be cut apart!

Dear FLIP,

This is the first time I've ever written you and will ever be thrilled to see if you print this letter. Your magazine is great. I luv it. Right off I wish it came out twice a month!

Dear FLIP,

There is one thing wrong with this mag. I get it one day and in one hour I'm done with it. Then I have to wait a whole month for another one!

Dear FLIP,

I'd like to know: Do you have to send a picture of yourself to get an answer from your fav? I'm referring to "Ask the Stars," your new column. I think it's great, except for that. I'm very camera-shy and I don't even have one picture of myself, because I just can't face the camera. It makes me nervous. Well...???

We thought it would be fun to print our readers' pictures with their questions, but if you ask a good question, we'll get it answered for you, whether or not you include a picture of yourself!

Dear FLIP,

I'm just writing to thank you very, very much for not forgetting about David Steinberg like all the other fan magazines have. It seems like just because he isn't a regular on any show, he isn't very important anymore, and that's so wrong, because he's just as great as ever. I'm not surprised FLIP Magazine was the only one to realize that, because FLIP always manages to satisfy its readers. Because, unlike other fan magazines, you don't just print stuff on the "spotlighted" characters.

Dear FLIP,

I saw the movie "The Point" the other night on TV and I just wanted to say that I think Mike Lookinland did a great job as "Oblio." The movie was amusing and the music was excellent. I hope Mike Lookinland keeps up the good job!

Dear FLIP,

I wrote this letter to tell you I'm in love, love, love with Peter Duel. He is the greatest thing that happened to me in 1971. I watch "Alias Smith and Jones" every Thursday night. I wish that you could put a couple of his pictures in your magazine. (I would run a mile for it!) Thank you very much.

Dear FLIP,

I just got my April issue of FLIP and I want to say thanks for printing that fabulous picture of Ryan O'Neal on page 49. I've had a fantastic crush on him since I saw "Love Story," and also saw the movie "Love, Hate, Love" on Tuesday, February 9th. So far, FLIP has been the only magazine to print a picture of this adorable guy.
