

I'll See You in My Dreams

and looks over the album jacket. Lifting one at a time and reading the notes on each record, David can almost remember the exact time he first heard each one!

Not all the records are new—some no longer have their protective jackets, and a few others have a dull gleam compared to the bright glossiness of the newer ones. He loves every one of the records because each brings some fond memory to him!

A SONG FOR THE FUTURE

David notices one record on the bottom and he picks it up. By the scratches, he knows it must be one of the older records of his huge collection. Moving to the lamp, he wipes the record's label and the light reveals that he is right. It's a record that used to belong to his parents, but he had always been the one to play it. When he moved to his own home, he naturally packed it along with his belongings because he and his family had grown to consider it his!

A wistful look is in his eyes as he places the record on the spindle. "I'll see you in my dreams—hold you in my dreams—" the music and the words follow David as he returns to his place on the couch. This song has great meaning for David because he thinks of it as being his theme for his future.

It has been quite a while since he has had a chance to sit quietly and just enjoy a moment of relaxation. Although he has not listened to it for a long time, he sings softly with the record and soon the words come easily once more to him... bringing back the familiar thoughts with them!

DREAM MADE TO ORDER

When David finds the right girl for him, she will be exactly as he sees her in his dreams. He can see her waiting for him each day to finish at the studio, and waiting eagerly for the time when they'll be together. She will be a girl whose smile will be for everyone—but when she smiles at David, the gentle touch of her hand will be only for him!

And the notes she leaves everywhere are only for David, too! Notes in his car saying "Drive carefully—remember a part of me is always with you!" Or a short message written on his door—"When this opens, I hope I see you!" will be meant for him alone!

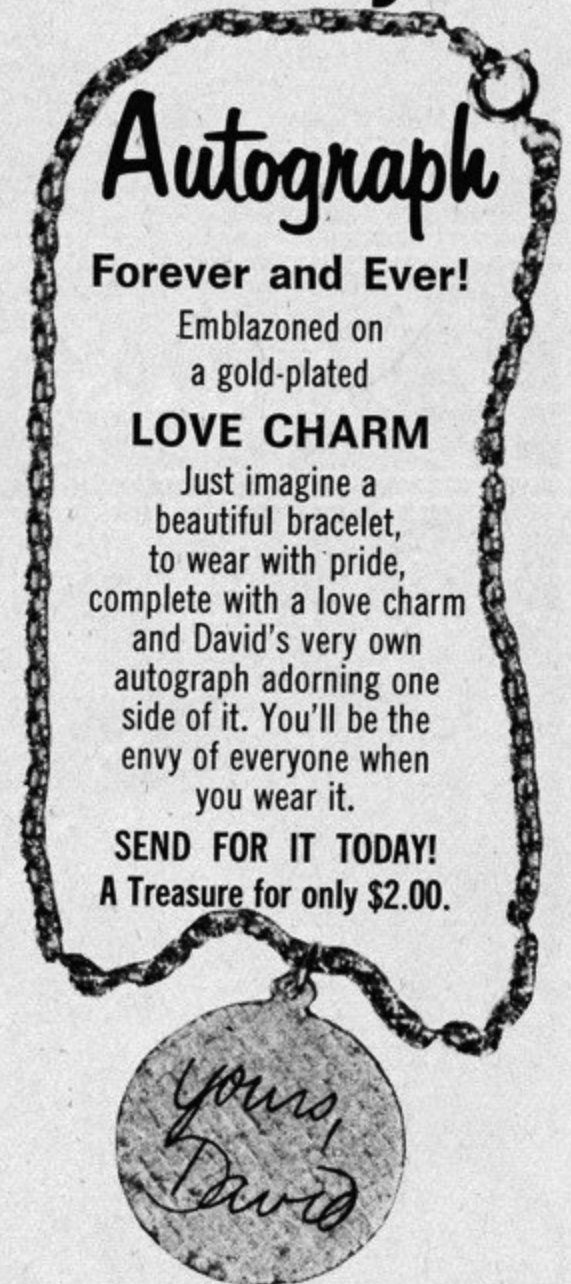

David sees himself and his love collecting pine cones in the mountains for their old fashioned Christmas wreath which will decorate the door. Or how they'll both laugh when he tries to teach her scuba diving. She'll be the kind of person who doesn't hesitate to laugh—even when the joke is on her... like swallowing a mouthful of salt water while he's showing her how to use an oxygen tank!

TRUE WORDS

David sees her face as she sits next to him in front of the fireplace. They are sitting on the floor, not speaking
