Speak out on:

love:

"I'VE HEARD PEOPLE SAY that love doesn't mean anything anymore! To those who use the word wisely it means a lot! Love shouldn't be meaningless."

"I USED TO BE AFRAID of the word love, I didn't think I was capable of it. Love is so special a feeling words can't say it, but the feeling must be groovy!"

"HOPE IS A MAGICAL-TYPE of word. I've always felt that as long as there's the least glimmer of hope in any situation, things will work out great if nobody gives up on that precious magical power called hope!"

"HOPE IS A BELIEF, in a way like faith. I mean if you have hope in your heart and you believe that what you're hoping for is possible, that's almost like having true faith. It's a sort of strong confidence."
