Liz Montgomery in her mini and her husband Bill Asher met up with Shirley Jones in her hot pants at a party.

Barbra Streisand and her date, David Rayfiel, dodge cameras on way into a theatre in Los Angeles.

Lynda Day and Chris George are still love bugs after a year or so of marriage.

Well, what do you know . . . it's Jay Silverheels, who played Tonto in the "Lone Ranger" years ago.

David Cassidy has recovered from his operation "Thank You," (gall bladder removal), and Mt. Sinai Hospital resumed its peaceful schedules. Fans calls swamped the switchboard (add to that the telephone strike, doctors couldn't get through). Fans stood with signs "We're Praying For You David" outside the hospital on Beverly Blvd. Such popularity hasn't been witnessed with the teen set since Elvis. As quickly as possible David was taken home to insure peace and quiet for the really sick. Although David was too for several days. David a nice boy, was a model patient, his nurse told me, and he was quite surprised at all the cards he received plus flowers; so many little bouquets of home garden variety tied with bows and left at the reception desk by his teen admirers. Same time, I hear, his series "The Partridge Family" shot around him and finally closed down until David could resume!

That hot rumor that Patty Duke is pregnant! She who announced it in anger—now says tisn't so! Universal has signed Patty to a new five-year pact. Desi Jr. is now also dating other girls—much younger. Everyone admires Desi's loyal friendship to Patty during her ordeal.

JoAnn Pflug showed at Jack Jones' opening night at the West Side Plaza in hot pants. So did Rita Hayworth. Jack's mom, Irene Hervey, was escorted by Cesar Romero who, years ago, introduced Alan Jones to Irene. She was dating Bob Taylor at the time.

That Doll, Ali MacGraw, received Italy's highest acting award, "The Donatello," and en route home came
