

LET'S TOUR WITH DAVID

HERE'S DAVID SINGIN' it out on stage. He's a fantastic performer. That's me singing out behind him!

Dear Brooks,

Did you get to visit David in the hospital when he got sick? How did you feel about not being able to tour for a while?

Debra Stant
Indianapolis, Ind.

Dear Debra,

Of course everyone was sad that we couldn't be on the road—even David himself! But we were really scared and we wanted him to have the best of care and rest. We didn't get to visit him. In fact, only his parents did, but the very first day he came home—guess who was there to greet him? And you know, he looked so thin! He went into the hospital weighing 130 lbs. and came out weighing 114! He looked so tiny! But he's gained back most of it now and he's regained his strength too!

Dear Brooks,

Does anybody ever get to go backstage to see David? If so, how do you choose who does?

LuAnn Doper
Seattle, Wash.

Dear LuAnn,

There really isn't anybody who

"chooses" who gets to go backstage. Sometimes it just happens that way. Usually David doesn't even come to the auditorium or theater until just right before he goes on stage. Afterwards, the security guards take him away so fast there isn't time then either! But once in a while, I guess it's just fate, somebody does get to go back. Maybe it can be you when we visit your town again. I hope so!

Dear Brooks,

Oh, your hair is just so lovely! How do you get it to hang so straight? Also, I've heard that Kim and Dave Ellingson were part of another group once. Can you tell me what it was?

Bobbi Smith
Atlanta, Ga.

Hi Bobbi,

I see you're from my home town! How's everything? Thanks for the compliment about my hair. And I could never explain why it hangs so straight—it just always has. In fact, sometimes when I want it to curl, it won't even do that! Kim and Dave used to be with the New Christy Minstrels—a folk group. Aren't they great? David thinks they're terrific!
