

THE PARTRIDGES went back to work in August earlier than expected. After DAVID'S operation, filming was not supposed to begin for three weeks to give him plenty of rest before getting back to the grueling schedule of filming a TV series. But after one week, DAVID told me he was going crazy just laying in bed all day. He was dying of boredom! So, with an okay from the doctor, filming was resumed on the set and DAVID was happily back at work again. His concert dates were still held up for a few weeks, though, because they are so much more of a strenuous activity.

Another exciting bit of news about DAVID—he spent the month of August “moonlighting” at the recording studio to make YOUR Christmas happier. That's right, DAVID has recorded a whole Christmas album that should be in the record stores the first week in December. You'll love DAVID'S versions of the traditional holiday songs like “Jingle Bells,” “Frosty The Snowman” and others and also the contemporary Christmas tunes he's included. Whatever you do, don't miss the super album by superstar DAVID!

David performs “Danny Boy.”

Everytime I go out to the “Getting Together” set at Columbia Ranch, I wind up spending the whole day! I always plan to run over there for just an hour or so for one reason or another and then I get so involved and have so much fun watching the filming that it's seven 'clock before I know it! That's when I witness, again and again, the beautiful scene outside the studio!

Each day a group of fans (different ones all the time) wait outside the guard gate to see BOBBY SHERMAN. And, you know, their wait is always rewarded. No matter how busy, or how

For all those of you who have been calling me asking about MARK LINDSAY, I'd like to make one thing perfectly clear (does that sound familiar?) . . . anyway, MARK has not (repeat, not!) left the RAIDERS. Yes, he does make solo appearances, and recently did a tour with The CARPENTERS, but he still appears with the RAIDERS whenever they do an in-person show and of course, they all still record together.

Ditto for FREDDY WELLER. FREDDY is still a RAIDER, but records his own records and makes personal appearances on his own too. I think it's great because you not only get to see all the RAIDERS as a group, but you get to see the individual and diversified talents of all the guys in the group. Right on!

Raiders are still a group!

Jack welcomes his son to the show.

When JACK CASSIDY guest-hosted for Merv Griffin in August, his special guest was his son DAVID. What was extra-special about the show was that JACK and DAVID didn't rehearse anything they were going to talk about so when his dad asked him point-blank questions like “Did coming from a divorced home hurt you?” DAVID answered with complete honesty! He also performed the number “Danny Boy” for the studio and home audience.

late or how tired he is, BOBBY ALWAYS stops to talk with the fans, sign autographs and take pictures with them. With his schedule these days, I know he's really sacrificing valuable time to talk with his fans but the look in BOBBY'S eyes tells you it's not a sacrifice to him, he enjoys it! Anyway, I just thought you'd like to know one more super thing about BOBBY! Was I right?

Bobby and fans—as usual.

Danny's birthday was a gas!

The PARTRIDGES surprised DANNY BONADUCE on August 13th with a big birthday cake to celebrate his 12th birthday! DANNY received little gifts from all the members of his “family.” On hand too was his mother, Mrs. Bonaduce. After filming ended for the day, they all gathered around as DANNY cut his cake and passed a piece out to each member of the cast and crew.
