David, The Partridge Family— & YOU!

cuts all of the Partridge Family LPs and singles (once again, I wish to point out to you that only David and Shirley sing on the PF records — but the rest of us are hoping to get good enough to join the group one day), and today Wes has made a surprise visit to see what it's like to actually shoot the show and to rave about one of David's recent live concerts which he caught.

"Oh, you don't have to tell me anything about it, Wes," I assure him, and within seconds I'm off on my non-stop rave-up about one of the most fantastic things I've ever seen — namely a live David Cassidy in-person concert recently at the San Diego Community Concourse! I could never ever tell you how fantastic David is! You just have to see it yourself to believe it!

In San Diego, I sat in an audience jampacked with screaming David Cassidy fans and got completely swept up in the magic and excitement that David creates on stage. He's so gorgeous and he sings so fabulously that, to me, the whole concert was like a beautiful dream — and one that ended all too soon! It took me hours to "come down" after my first David Cassidy concert!! And when I finally did, I realized that deep in my heart, I was extremely proud of David!

It may seem odd to say this, but since we've been playing brother and sister on The Partridge Family series, David has actually become like a real-life brother to me. So when I was sitting there in San Diego, watching him perform — well, it was very much like watching my own brother do something perfect and fantastic right before my eyes. I sincerely hope that each and every one of you out there in 16-land gets a chance to see David perform live one day. You'll never forget it if you do!

A Secret For YOU

"Susan Dey, Danny Bonaduce, David Cassidy—on set!" Suddenly the voice of the director comes through the loudspeaker. And in a flash, we're all gathered around the "Partridge Family dining room" set, where Danny, David, Shirley and myself have a scene to run through.

Just before we start, I see David walk off the set and over to you. He leans down and whispers something in your ear. I see your face brighten and a soft smile cross your lips — and I'm absolutely burning with curiosity — wondering what David Cassidy has said to you to light you up like that!

Well, whatever it was David said to you, we'll both have to wait until next month to find out! And besides your and David's new secret, there's plenty of other fun and excitement to share when you meet me, David and the PF gang here again in the November issue of 16 Magazine! The November ish goes on sale September 21. Be sure to meet me here then!!

Here we are—getting ready for a run-through in the "Partridge Family dining room".
