

SEX is for the FIT!

Often the spirit is willing but the flesh is weak. The act of love is physical, involving specific muscles which must "do their thing." They can bring fun or fatigue, pleasure or pain. Dropout muscles make love drop out! Unknowingly, many men and women (young and old) are sexual cripples.

Are Sex Muscles Teachable?

Science says YES. They can be trained for vigor, agility, staying power. THE SEX CONDITIONER presents an amazing new routine, specially designed to put you in shape for sex!

Like most great ideas, it's a "natural." You'll wonder why someone didn't think of it before.

A simple, 5-minute exercise (clinically proven) treats frigidity; another teaches a man control. Others suggest variety, help a passive partner "get into the act."

Theater, and 1970 Oscarettie winner Mae West's limousine had a hard time getting through.

This year Danny Thomas received the biggest ovation; Ali MacGraw and Carol Burnett caused such excitement that during intermission the audience broke through the security guards and mobbed them backstage; and Dr. Katz was wearing, for good luck, his concert shoes of 34 years, "A" which "pinch" he said. Today he wears a "B".

Mitch Vogel was held over one day from Bonanza's location in Arizona. When David Cassidy walked on stage, girls screamed and went into faints for this new Elvis; Kurt Russell, on location, didn't get excused from the cameras, until almost 8 P.M. Kurt rushed to Disney Studios, donned his new tux for the event, and dashed to the Oscaretties only to be turned down outside by security guards. No one would let Kurt, the new teen motion picture Oscarettie winner, in until he was rescued last second. John Phillip Law—the ladies, girls, women—all ages, took him right to their hearts collectively and individually. He had to have a special guard afterwards to keep himself intact to get out to his car.

Ali MacGraw said she was so thrilled to stand next to Jack Benny; Tommy Smothers, who didn't get an award, participated in "the Battle of the Batons," where he competed with Jack Benny and Eddie Albert with a turn at leading the Symphony! Eddie had flown in from New York and hadn't had dinner, and was consuming fortune cookies backstage to stave off near-starvation.

The Special Tribute to the glory and 1971 popularity of Mary Pickford, a 1958 World Star Oscarettie winner, was acknowledged by Buddy Rogers!

Sorry the TV cameras didn't catch Edward Ashley's magnificent narration of "Midsummers Night Dream." Ali MacGraw told Bob Evans later at the Bistro, she would like to do it all over again the next night, it was such fun. Danny Thomas, who had to catch a later plane out, said he would have waited all night, if necessary. That's the marvelous spirit revealed in the Green Room backstage, as well as out front.

Elvis Presley starts his new movie at 20th Century Fox—and no singing: just dramatic acting: Elvis is well fortified with talent to do it. He plays a detective. With all of the bombardment of mail I'm getting from the Tom Jones fans, Elvis holds the record—for breaking all records in Las Vegas: He'll be back at the International in August!

Walt Disney's "Million Dollar Duck," starring Dean Jones, is the funniest film in eons for the family. Dean invited me to his new Tarzana Manse next day. When I walked in and his police dog rushed out at me—raising my hair on edge, to say the least, Dean said, "I don't know whether he's harmless, he came with the property!" I thought I was the duck in "Million Dollar Duck" for a few seconds!
