LIFE-STUDY FELLOWSHIP BOX F6960 NOROTON, CONN. GOLDEN CROSS

"I was at the studio when I found out about Kevin dying. I was working on Room 222, and I called home for some reason during lunch, to see what was happening. And my mother said, 'One of Kevin's friends called you today.' I asked, 'What does he want me for?' and she said, 'I don't know, He'll call you later.' I said, 'Fine,' and I called back later and asked, 'Mom, any other calls?'"

"She said, 'Yes, a few of Kevin's friends have been calling you.' I said, 'Why?' and she said, 'Nothing—I'll tell you when you get home.' I said, 'What's the matter? I'll call Kevin if you don't tell me!'"

"And she said, 'I don't know, Judy... he's sick. He's in the hospital.' And I said, 'Is it bad?' 'Yes, very bad.'"

"I said, 'Oh, Mom! Find out everything! When I get home, I'll go to the hospital.' She said, 'Okay.'"

"I didn't have a car, and my sister had to come to the studio to pick me up. She came about five-thirty, and she had a very strange expression on her face. She said, 'Did you hear about Kevin?'"

"I said, 'Yes, I want to go to the hospital. What happened?' And she said, 'We'll tell you when you get home.'"

"And I looked at her, and I don't know what made me think it. But I said, 'Cindy, it's more than that, isn't it?'"

"She said, 'No... we'll talk about it when we get home.'"

"I said, 'Cindy, something's really the matter with Kevin. He's dead, isn't he?' She looked at me. I said, 'It's okay, I'm not going to cry.' And she said, 'Yes!'"

"I was in a state of shock. I didn't say another word. Later I learned how my mother had gotten the news. Somebody had called and said, 'Hello, is Judy there?' 'No, she's working.' 'Would you please tell Judy that tomorrow Kevin's funeral will be held at nine o'clock?' And my mother said, 'Kevin's funeral? What a horrible joke!' But she called everybody that I knew until she found out that Kevin had died. She didn't want to call me at the studio and scare me.

"There wasn't a rosary for Kevin, but you could visit at the chapel. So I went there. He was in a closed coffin. It was the same chapel where Kevin's mother had been when she died. Listen to this! His mother died two Christmases ago. His grandmother died two days after his mother because of the shock. Kevin's grandfather died the day before Kevin died. And Kevin died last November 15th.

"So I went to the chapel, and I was hysterical. I cried, 'No! No! No!' They couldn't control me.

"I came home, and I had to work the next day, so I couldn't go to the funeral. Well, I was still in hysterics after visiting the chapel, but I called David to find out if he knew about the funeral, because I knew that he would want to go.

"David wasn't there. But his roommate, Sam, was. I had never met Sam before, and I was hysterical on the phone, so Sam could barely understand me. When he heard the news, he was in total shock. (He and David and Kevin had all attended Emerson Junior High.) I said, 'Please—if David isn't working, tell him to go.' Sam tried to control me on the phone, but I hung up on him, because I just couldn't talk any further.

"Well, as it turned out, somebody had called David earlier that morning while
