David. Everything has happened so fast for David, and Sam talks to him and gives him advice.

"Sam wants to get into show business, so David has had Sam help him on his concerts. Sam designed the posters. And he's going to acting school now.

"I've been over to their house and we've had dinner there together," Judy noted. "One day I was talking to David on the phone, and he told me that he and Sam were going to cook hot dogs. It was a Sunday, so I said, 'Don't cook hot dogs. That's ridiculous! My mother made some spaghetti, and maybe I could bring you some.' So my cousin Spike drove me over there [Judy's aunt is singer Helen Grayco, and uncle was bandleader Spike Jones] and I brought along spaghetti, meatballs, and chicken. They all went crazy over the delicious Italian food, and I made them a salad to go with it.

"Since then I've gone up there on other occasions and cooked for them... or made salads to go with the omelets that Sam cooked. He's very good at omelets. And we've had a lot of fun.

"David is as nice as ever, even though he's so successful now. He still has the same friends that he's always had, and I don't think he goes to a lot of Hollywood parties. I don't go to them, either."

A sudden thought made her smile. "I remember a time when David and I hadn't seen each other for a while, and all of a sudden he called me and said, 'You're not going to believe this—we're engaged!'

"Somebody had said in an article that we were engaged, and we hadn't even seen each other for some time when the article came out. So we laughed about the rumor.

"We have a lot of fun, and we have a lot in common, because he's not ready to get serious and I'm not, either. Yet I don't mind going out to industry functions with him, because I have to go to them, too.

"So it's convenient for us to go out together. If he has to go to an awards banquet, he'll say, 'Judy, can you go with me?' and I'll understand. I'm sure the pressure of his career gets rough sometimes, and yet we have a lot of fun together, and we goof around, and it helps him to relax. David has the busiest schedule of anybody I know. It's just unbelievable—I don't know how he does it! He has the TV shows, recordings, concerts, and publicity layouts, so that he has no time at all to himself during the week, or even on some weekends.

"Yet he likes to entertain at home at night, and when he does there are always lots of kids over there. In fact, I was there one day in the afternoon and people were just walking in and out of the house without even knocking! On weekends, though, he likes to get away to the beach whenever he can, just to rest and think."

Although Judy and David are just friends, she admits with a mischievous smile that "I've always had a crush on David. I used to kid Kevin when we were going together. I'd say, 'Well, Kevin, if you and I break up, maybe David and I will get together.' It was always a joke, but he used to get jealous. He really thought I liked David because when I'd talk to David on the phone, I would get excited. But I was very careful of what I said to him.

"The first thing I ever said to David was, 'David, you're an Aries. I've got to
