the guest. The ball starts to fly back and forth and though you were determined to help Barry score a lot of points—you see he doesn't need any help. Finally, he notices the exhausted expression on your face and calls a tie.

One of Barry's super ways of relaxing is eating in his favorite French restaurant, and he's really pleased you're going to be with him tonight.

After you're seated he takes your hand and whispers, "I hope you like eating here as much as I do." When you smile, he explains he likes it here because of the quiet atmosphere and the opportunity to be together yet still feel alone. Since Barry's studying French, you ask him to order for you—you know he enjoys practicing it on the waiters.

While the two of you are finishing up dessert, Barry suggests going to a good movie. He doesn't care too much for the discotheque scene, he says. You understand and in a few minutes you're on your way.

Later, you and he stroll along the Santa Monica streets laughing and looking in the store windows. Finally, it's time to say goodnight and Barry smiles as you thank him for a wonderful time. Just as you wave goodbye, you begin to think of all the special memories you have to treasure. And you're super happy you caught Barry for one day! ●

But now David's ready to get back into the groove of making a weekly TV series. "Though I was doing all kinds of different things while we were on our break," he admits, "I really missed working on 'The Partridge Family.'"

SUZANNE CROUGH

Although Suzanne really enjoys being a member of The Partridge Family, she loves her time off, too. She's never bored when she's home with her family and she gets loads and loads of attention from her seven brothers and sisters.

"I love to play football and baseball with my brothers and the other kids in the neighborhood," says Suzanne. "They never used to want me to play, but now they've found out how good I am and they don't mind at all."

Rugged sports aren't Suzanne's only free-time activities. She likes to play
