RUMOR:

I heard that Osmonds are going to make Jimmy an official member of the group on his next birthday. Is this true?

Help! I'm one of the remaining David Jones fans, and I heard that he has packed up and moved back to England. Please tell me this isn't so!

Has Chris Stone ever done any professional writing?

I've heard that Danny Bonaduce used to be a cast member of "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," but I don't recall seeing him regularly. Do you know anything about this?

Someone told me that Jackie Jackson drives an old beat-up Chevy! How can that be?

Is there any truth to the rumor that Frank Webb is going to drop out of entertainment and move back to his home in Arizona?

Is it true that Mitch Vogel is now working as magician instead of an actor?

Has Frank Webb gotten any new dogs to replace his stolen Samoyeds?

Are Pete and Geoffrey Deuel brothers? My girlfriend says they are, but I was wondering since they spell their names differently.

TRUTH:

There's a strong likelihood that someday Jimmy may become a member of the group, but no such arrangements are being made for the near future. Jimmy will, however, continue joining his brothers on stage for several numbers during their live appearances.

Relax and don't panic because this is absolutely untrue! David and his family did go to England, but it was only temporarily so that Linda could give birth to their second child in Britain. Both David and Linda thought it would be nice if their new baby would have a dual citizenship.

Chris has always enjoyed writing, and is finally getting around to trying his hand at it now. He's working on several TV scripts that are up for consideration, and if anything comes of it, you'll be the first to know!

There was a time when Danny made a guest appearance on the show (playing a character named Danny, of all things!) but he was never a member of the cast. The "Partridge Family" is his first TV series!

It can't be! Jackie was just given a beautiful orange Datsun for his 20th birthday in May!

Heavens no! Frank likes show business way too much to drop out of it. When he does have a little extra time off, he enjoys making a quick trip home to visit with family and friends, but then he's always back working in Hollywood in no time!

No . . . Mitch is still very much an actor, and you can continue seeing him weekly in "Bonanza," but he is also doing some magic tricks on the side! He loves providing "magical entertainment" for benefit shows and at children's hospitals!

Yes, about six months ago Frank got himself a lovable little mongrel pup named Maggie!

Yes, they very definitely are brothers, and it's purely coincidental that both decided to go into show business because the boys come from six generations of doctors! Geoff is keeping the original spelling of the family name, Deuel, while Pete has shortened it by dropping the first "e". Hope that settles any confusion!
