Then Shirley walks in, and you spot another change. Shirley's more beautiful than you remember her. She tells you that she lost a little weight on vacation, and she's absolutely stunning. Needless to say, you're impressed.

Harvey, the Men's Wardrobe man, brings in still another surprise—the new Partridge costumes. The outfits are green, with tapestry tops, plus bright yellow shirts. You've always admired the designs of the groups' wardrobe, but this new tapestry look is the best yet. Lotsa class!

Where's Danny? Since he's not in sight, you assume the "Red Devil" (a household nickname) is out riding his bike and you start looking for the nearest safety zone. But there he goes, and when you catch up to him, he's parked in front of his new dressing room—actually a two room suite. Danny's new digs are right across from his old trailer, but he now has twice the space, which is great.

Q. I have a bet with my sister that Danny was in "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir." Do I win?

Marie Minicozzi, Jessup, Pa.

A. Yes. Danny was in one episode, and played a character named—are you ready?—"Danny."

Q. Is it true that Dave Madden enjoys making tape recordings? What kind of tape recorder does he have?

A Tape Worm, Chicago, Ill.

A. What kind doesn't he have! Dave has a big four-track stereo machine, a smaller tape deck, a cassette recorder, and even a tiny portable tape recorder that he uses for dictating and memorizing his lines.
