

When I think of a girl's face, I always think of her eyes first.

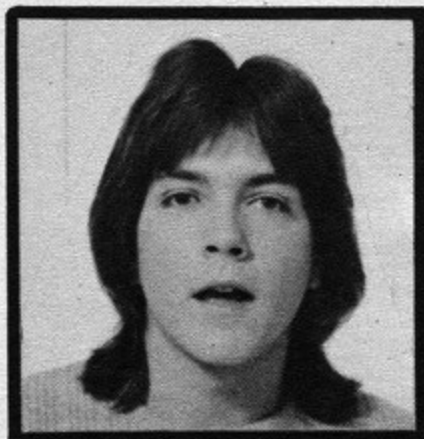

I think her eyes are the most beautiful feature of any girl's face.

Even if she herself is not what people would call a beautiful or even a pretty girl, her eyes may be beautiful. Or very special.

Not just because of their appearance.

Even more important is what her eyes seem to express—the thoughts and feelings that are expressed in her eyes.

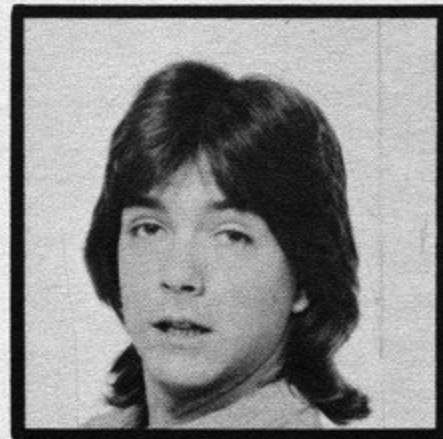

She may have :

Beautiful eyes.

Mysterious eyes.

Exotic eyes.

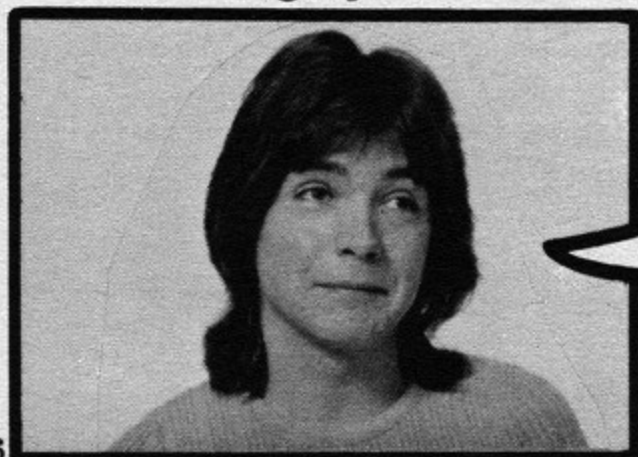

Haunting eyes.

Lively eyes.

Provocative eyes.

Or (the most famous eyes of all):
"Mona Lisa" eyes. Eyes that don't reveal all of what she is thinking deep within her.
What kind of eyes do you have? Do you have the kind of eyes I love?—the kind of eyes I will remember?
