

DAVID!

DAVID:

BE HIS GIRL by not being constantly concerned about your hair and make-up! David likes a girl to be herself, to be natural — and not act as if she were posing for a fashion ad all the time! Let the wind rearrange your hairstyle a little, David will love it! And he'll love the fact that you aren't wearing any make-up and that the glow in your cheeks is the result of the sun and the wind and being with him!

Be open and understanding of what's happening outside of yourself. Be concerned with the problems of today and form your own opinions rather than agreeing with his just to make him happy! Respect is a major ingredient in love! Don't take friendship or trust lightly — those are two priceless virtues where David's concerned. Neither be stingy or give too freely of both — either way lessens their value.

FAVORITE PLACES are those with special memories attached to them. Places where words of meaning were exchanged or a learning experience occurred.

But if David were asked to choose between land and sea, his choice would be the mystery and wonder of the ocean! When David is scuba diving he's in a different world. A world still filled with exciting adventures that man has yet to find or explore. There, his spirit and imagination can run free — as free as the waters themselves!

HIS WILDEST DREAM is to be swimming in the deep waters of the ocean and suddenly discovering the lost continent of Atlantis! That legendary civilization whose culture and advanced technology was lost when it sunk in the ocean. Who knows what secrets they held that could offer a link in the history of man? Or perhaps they had discovered answers to questions that our scientists and own technology have yet to reach? No one can say — but in David's dream, he would be the one who was lucky enough to find Atlantis and give its secrets and wisdom to the world he loves and lives in!

DAVID is like the willow tree who has learned to live with the other elements of life — bending but not breaking with the wind, finding strength in accepting changes. His smile can mean so much — the innocence of a child, the strength of a man, the understanding of a friend, and the love he holds in his heart — for you.
