

*You Can Save David*Continued

Would you believe that there are actually girls in the world who try to use David Cassidy for their own selfish purposes? Well, it's true!

There are a whole lot of girls around David who would very gladly use him strictly for their own gain. They are girls who claim they like David but who are really only interested in what they can get from him or through him.

The "Selfish Starlets"

The first and most obvious group of these girls is the "Selfish Starlets." There are always a mass of young starlets in Hollywood—girls who came to Hollywood to make it big and discovered there's more to this game than meets the eye. Many of them are very hungry for publicity and will do just about anything to get their name, or even better, their picture, in the papers or magazines.

Of course, this doesn't include every young actress in Hollywood. Some of them are indeed sincere and talented. But a good many of them are looking for a short cut through all the hard work that it takes to make it in show business and will use anybody, including a nice guy like David, to get what they want—publicity!

These are the girls who try anything to get to meet David—including bribing friends and relatives who are in any way associated with David or "The Partridge Family" to introduce them to David.

Some of them are lucky enough to get a small role on the show and then can spend time on the set buttering David up and trying to convince him how much they like him.

Their Big Goal

But no matter what means they use to get at David, they all have the same goal—to somehow get to be seen in public with him. They all know that he is photographed almost everywhere he goes and they figure if they're with him and they get photographed with him, people will notice them.

And they figure maybe someone important will notice them and they'll get a part on some TV show or in some movie or something that will help launch their career. They really don't care about David at all.

The ultimate dream of these girls is to actually go out with David—to some very public place, of course. They figure if they could get their picture in some publication with identification as David's date, they'd have it made. Then someone would be sure to notice them, they figure.

These girls are part of what's known as the "Publicity Pack." All they really want from anyone is some publicity, and they don't care who they have to use to get it.

The really ugly thing is that if by some major miracle one of these girls ever did make it as an actress, she would probably never turn around and thank David. People like that never do remember who helped them get where they are. Not like David, who is very appreciative to everyone who's ever helped him in any way.

The "Publicity Pack"

There's another kind of girl who also tries to use David—girls who aren't even in show business but just want to be seen with someone famous.

There are girls who try everything they know to get near David. These are the ones who make it necessary for him to have an unlisted phone number and a super-secret address.

These girls hang around, claiming to be big fans of David's but in reality all they care about is impressing someone else by being close to a star. They just want their friends to ooh and ahh because they managed to meet David.

They don't really care about David or his feelings or getting to know him or anything—they just want to show off for their friends.

The really terrible thing is that these girls who try to use David also spoil him for you, his true fans and friends. They make him keep his distance and lead a secluded life so he won't be bothered by them. They make him put up fences between himself and the world.

A Bad Impression

They give him a bad impression of girls in general. Sometimes he begins to feel that the only girls he ever meets are these super aggressive, selfish, uncaring girls.

Anyone who becomes a star is in a position to be used by people, but it's the girls who try to use David that are the worst—because he really does like girls and wants to meet girls and date and have a good time, but they make it very difficult for him.

He finds himself feeling a little cynical at times, believing that everyone is trying to use him. But then he worries about how many girls he might have misjudged—girls who were sincerely interested in him whom he ignored because he thought they were just another one of "those girls."
