

TONY RIZZO'S FAN FARE

Tony, our Tinsel Town Tiger, partied with Evelyn Kiyes, who was celebrating her novel, unusually named I Am A Billboard.

There's that Goodtime Guy, Glen Campbell, having some down-home fun with wife Billie and children Travis and Kelley.

Sandy Duncan recently recovered from eye surgery, received Most Promising Newcomer Award. Hope her future's good.

The Annual Golden Apples were bestowed upon MARY TYLER MOORE and HAL HOLBROOK (as best actors) and SANDY DUNCAN and DAVID CASSIDY (as best newcomers) by the Hollywood Women's Press Club. David, who showed up in a dungaree suit, was so pleased to win what must be one of his first important awards. The awards are given to the most cooperative actors and when this reporter commented to David that I was looking forward to working with him again, he remarked, "I'm going away to Europe for a month and when I come back, I'm not doing that anymore." I was somewhat shocked, but recovered in time to interject, "Oh, okay, it's been nice seeing you anyway, star!"

SUSAN DEY, who fought through a crowd of people to get to David, found him more interested in making a get-away than in talking to her. After a polite kiss he bolted for the door. Susan turned to me and dangled an exclusive interview for Movie World, the details of her holiday in New York, which she was leaving for that day, if I would help her get away without too much ado. While waiting for her car, she was introduced to STEPHANIE STEELE of Arnie and told the young star, "I think it's terrible the way they never use you or DEL RUSSEL on Arnie. It's always the two older stars that they use on the show . . . when are they going to realize how talented you and Del are?"

MARY TYLER MOORE doesn't complain about movie magazines because she's smart enough to know how to protect herself. "I figure if I smile whenever pictures are being taken, no one can use them with tragic story titles to them. They have to be happy stories." You may be right Mary . . . keep smiling kid!
