

David's Springtime Blues!

Having to cancel my trip to Hawaii because they're behind schedule filming on "Partridge Family."

Having an outdoor concert cancelled due to rain!

Finding your city so beautiful during a concert tour that I want to stay a while longer, but I can't—I've got another show in another city.

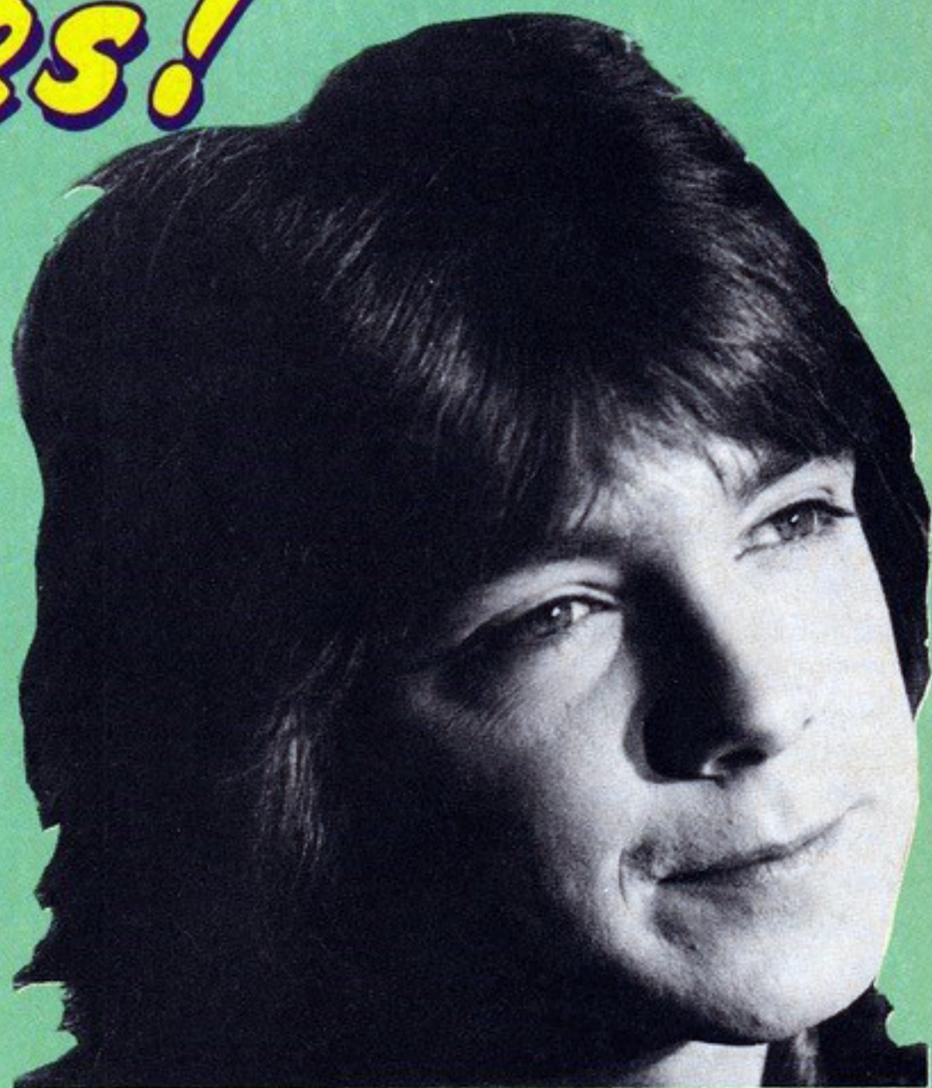

Having someone give me a glass of cold water that turns out to be warm.

Promising Sam's dog Sheesh I'll take her for a long walk this evening and then being too tired when I get home.

Hurrying home to catch a special show on television and finding it's been pre-empted.

Feeling in the mood for a great big juicy apple and finding they're all gone when I open the refrigerator.

Losing your telephone number and having no way at all to get in touch with you—even though I've saved the weekend for the two of us!

Having to get up in the morning and go to work when the birds are singing and the sun's shining bright and I'd much rather be with you!

Buying a double scoop ice cream cone and not being able to eat it fast enough so that it melts down the cone and onto my hand!

Seeing a field of wild-flowers and not being able to pick any for you because there's too many bumble-bees around!

Going on a picnic and finding ants!

Going for a walk in the park and finding they've just watered the grass!

Forgetting to have the gas station attendant check the water in my car and have the radiator heat up so I've got to pull to the side of the road and wait until it cools down!

Running into the ocean because it's so nice and warm on the sand and finding the water still like ice!
