EVERY SONG IS YOU

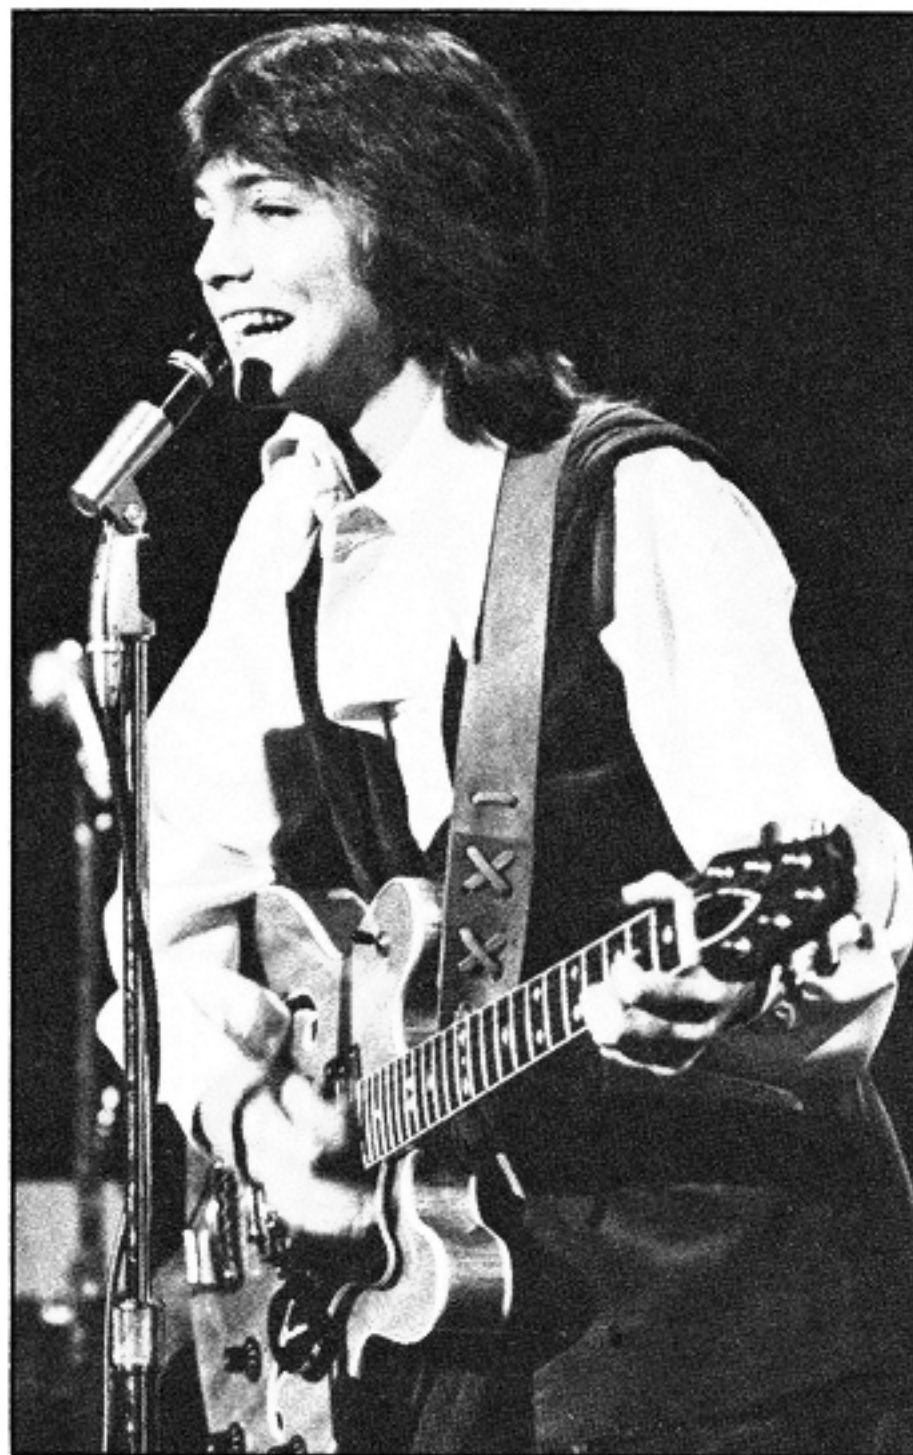

By Terry Cashman & T. P. West

Magazines and afternoon dreams
Get me through the day
And 'til the night can smile for the people
As I sing and I play
I left home, it seems like a century ago
I never thought I could miss anybody so

(chorus)
Everywhere I go
Everything I do
Every song is you
Searched my mind
Just to find Something I always knew
Everywhere I go
Every song is you

Singing with a six-piece song band
Answer to my dreams
And every time I sing without you how lonely it seems
I love you now
Like I never loved you before
Each day that goes by
I find that I want you so
I want you more

(and to chorus)

HELLO, HELLO

by Wes Farrell & Tony Romeo

Hello Hello I love you so
Yet it all began when I ran into you not so long ago
And since that day
I've wanted to say
Hello, Hello

Would you like to go
To a place with me
Where we can watch
The hours go by You're sure someone I'd Like to get to know, Oh,

I still don't know your name and I couldn't care less
I like what I already see Whatever sign you are or What's your address
Don't really matter
Much to me

Just wanna say Hello, Hello
I love you so
Yet it all began
When I ran into you
Not so long ago
Hello, Hello, Hello

EVERY LITTLE BIT O' YOU

by Irwin Levine & L. R. Brown

There's a little bit of you In every girl I run in to In every girl I even knew And since that day We went our own way It's true, there's a whole lotta me still hung on every little bit o' you.	There's a little bit, Yeah, just a little bit, Just a little bit, Yea, Just a little bit, Oh Just a little bit, There's still a little bit of hope, Hidin' down in this old Heart of mine Whispering there'll be Another time I looked around and what I found just won't do Cause there's a whole Lotta me, still hung on Every little bit o' you.
There's a little bit of you In every tender night I've shared They can see that you're still there One look in my eyes And they realize it's true

SOMETHING NEW GOT OLD

by Bobby Hart & Wes Farrell

Something new got old
Something warm grew cold
Something right for oh, so long
Turned out so wrong

You don't have to say goodbye
I can read between the lines
Little things you say and do
Let me know I'm losing you

And when friends all ask about you
Just like friends will sometimes do
They wonder why you've gone a way
The only thing I know to say, is Never thought you'd let me down

Always said you'd be around

Girl I've had my share of takers
Go between and promise breakers
Starting over where I landed Always came up empty handed.

Ah, but when it came to you
To me your kind of love was new Happiness and always giving something new to keep me living
Something warm grew cold.
