

Singer Glen Campbell shows off two of his brood, Travis, 7, and Wesley, 3. Momma, Billie smiles her approval.

Bobby is now starting to write music again, the first time in many years. What's he writing? "I don't write for the market," he told me, "but what I feel."

And talking about feeling, I asked when he and Andrea Yaeger would get married? "Spiritually we are married," he said. "It's an accomplished fact." Then he switched the subject to son Dodd who is the apple of his daddy's eye—and mama Sandra Dee's, too. I saw Sandy at a cocktail party recently and wondered why she wasn't working in films any more, why someone hasn't made her an offer. Or one to Bobby as well. Bobby would like the answer to that one, too. But, maybe now that he's on TV this summer it will remind a few folks that he did once get an Oscar nomination—for "Captain Newman, M.D." with another star of TV—Tony Curtis.

TV TIDBITS:

● Before the "Partridge Family" resumed filming, both Shirley and David were going thru a rough period. First of all, before the start, they were busy cutting records day and night. It followed David's incredible tour that left him so weak, he finally stopped to take a week's rest—in bed—easy now—a flu victim. Coincidentally with Jack's return to L.A., Shirley canceled out her trip to the White House (and New York) and on the night of her concert for the Nixons, Shirley and Jack showed up at a table for two at Tana's. But, they were still miles apart on a reconciliation at this time. A love interest coming up for Shirley is, however, planned—and that's on the series. It will build and maybe, if the show lasts a couple of more seasons, she will be married on the air. No, they're not planning to put Jack Cassidy on the show. Meanwhile, Shirley's planning to follow in her step-son's footsteps—she returns to night clubs for the first time in three years when she starts a three week tour Aug. 14 at the Starlight Theatre in Indianapolis.

David didn't spend a very happy 22nd birthday, he was bedded with the flu the entire week. I called to say happy birthday and got the news of his illness. His secretary laughingly told me that David had gotten 22 calls from a couple of fans in Brooklyn who couldn't be convinced David would NOT come to the fone. "Do you know how much these fone calls are costing?" she asked the girls. "No," said one of them, "my mother isn't at home!" What a homecoming she must have had when the fone company told her the bill!

Altho Shirley Jones has been dating mostly "mutual friends" of hers and Jack's, she was supposed to be with Glenn Ford at Debbie Reynolds' Coconut Grove opening. I saw Glenn sitting alone at the next table, obviously waiting for someone to join him. I asked him to sit with us while he waited, and he came over to tell me that Shirley didn't make it because of the recording session, and he was to be with some married friends of Debbie's.

● Johnny Carson seemed like the world's happiest guy at the SHARE show, when he was again with Joanna Holland. During the
