

SHAUN CASSIDY FOLLOWING DAVID'S FOOTSTEPS

He's been surrounded by actors all his life. He knows the ups and downs of show business... the happy moments and the sad ones. Is Shaun Cassidy willing to follow the same path that's made David a superstar?

He watched the drummer working out a beat from the drums and Shaun felt the familiar feeling of the rhythm starting from his toes and working itself out to his own fingertips. With a nod from the drummer, Shaun took his cue and turned to his own microphone.

He loved playing in his own band. Listening to the music, he could hardly believe that he was partly responsible for something that was created from feelings he had and transferred to his guitar. He looked down at the guitar in his hands and smiled. That was really what music was all about, though, just the feelings a person had and made into music.

SAME TUNE

Before forming his own band, Shaun had watched David perform and knew that that magic that filled the air was something he wanted to know.

David and he had a great thing going! Shaun knew that a lot of people couldn't even begin to understand the kind of relationship he and David shared because it was so special.

David had always been more than a brother to him. Shaun always knew, even before there was a show called the Partridge Family, that his "big brother" David was going to do very special things. He believed in him.
