

"How Do I Love Thee?"

CONTINUED

Dear David,

There's a song out called "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," and it describes perfectly the way I felt when I first saw you! It was your TV appearance on "Medical Center," and my heart went out to you as you portrayed the least-favorite son in a small family. I knew right then how sensitive a person you are, and I knew that there could never be another star who'd touch my heart like you did! Please take care of yourself, and remember that I'll always love you.

Fondly,
Cathy H.

Dear David,

I hope this letter finds you happy, because I'M even happy just writing it! I wanted to congratulate you on your success 'cause it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy. And you know why I say that? Because I had the good fortune of meeting you at one of your concerts, and thought you were the sweetest person I've ever known. That day was like a dream come true for me. I hope you'll stay happy always, and continue to spread sunshine among your fans!

Dear David,

I practice singing two hours a day. I am only twelve and I would like you to hear me sing and tell me if I am good.

At your Astrodome concert, I saw you running to your dressing room. And when I came out of the crowd I was crying. My friends asked me if some boy had hit me. I could hardly talk. I said, "I saw him."

I sing to my pictures of you. My friends say I am just great.
Kelly

Dear David,

You might think that age eleven is a young age to have a crush on someone. Well, I have a crush on you. I listen to all your records with "The Partridge Family." The record I like best is "Cherish David Cassidy."

Dear David,
You sing great! I think you're very handsome! I am nine years old. I LOVE YOU!!!

Shirley

Dear David,
I have all the faith in the world in you.

Sara
