

DAVID likes perfecting his skills with an import camera.

SHIRLEY Jones looks like a first-class director, seated in her "between takes" chair.

Partridge fans always look forward to pix and flashes of all their favorite actors caught in the act. Well, here are some sneaky behind-the-scenes shots of what goes on between "cut" and "roll 'em". Our camera arrived just in time for a typical coffee break.

BRIAN looks like he could stay in this position all day, as he lets the Pepsi slide down his throat.

SHARING jokes with each other is a favorite way to kill time. It keeps everyone happy and relaxed!

DAVE and Danny seem to have spats over who's got the next turn in croquet.

Badminton is great to pass time.

SUZANNE likes to play pranks like "hide-and-seek" behind this plastic stage fern. She picked a good spot!

A FUNNY hat out of last week's old comic strips? That's right, but why!

STERN concentration and absolute quiet are necessary for this key stroke to end the game.

AT LAST we found a serious moment with Danny and his studio teacher. He still has to put in his school time.

SOMETIMES the Partridges choose badminton teams and hold a "take five" tournament right on the back lot.
