When Shirley Jones leaves the studio, she goes home to another job. Besides being a fine actress and singer, Shirley is also a wonderful wife and mother. She just loves spending time with her family—and whenever she can, she takes her three handsome sons (Ryan, Pat and Shawn) out on the town.

It's no secret that David Cassidy is quite the music lover. Besides playing a number of musical instruments and singing up a storm, he also has fine talent as a song-writer. One of David's favorite at-home activities is sitting down at the old keyboard and letting his active musical imagination take over. Play on!

If Susan Dey's beaming just a bit more than usual, it may be because she's just received a long-distance call from her loving family back in New York State. Susan misses them very much when she's hard at work in California—and a cheerful word from the folks back home is always a welcome treat.
