

David's 2nd Hawaiian trip was super!

Two Superstars visited the Hawaiian Islands this month—BOBBY SHERMAN and DAVID CASSIDY. After spending a peaceful week at Big Sur along the Northern California coast, DAVID took off for a week in Hawaii as you can read about on page 3 in DAVID'S own words. The week DAVID returned, BOBBY finished filming the first 13 segments of his show and then took off for a well-deserved vacation. Instead of staying on the big island of Oahu, BOBBY saw all the islands, spending most of his time on Maui, which many say is the most beautiful of all the islands.

A very sad thing happened to DAVID about two months ago and he asked that we wait to tell you about it so it wouldn't be quite so hard on him. So, rather than make it into a big story, which would only hurt DAVID more, I decided to tell you about it personally. You see, DAVID'S beloved dog SAM died about two months ago. The dog got into a fight with some other, bigger dogs and DAVID immediately took him to the veterinarian, who closed all the wounds and sent him home again. But three days later, SAM began to act as if he felt very tired. The next day they took him back to the animal hospital, but the infection had spread and there was no way to get it out. The veterinarian tried everything in his power, but SAM died that day.

David visits Sam's & Sheesh's pups!

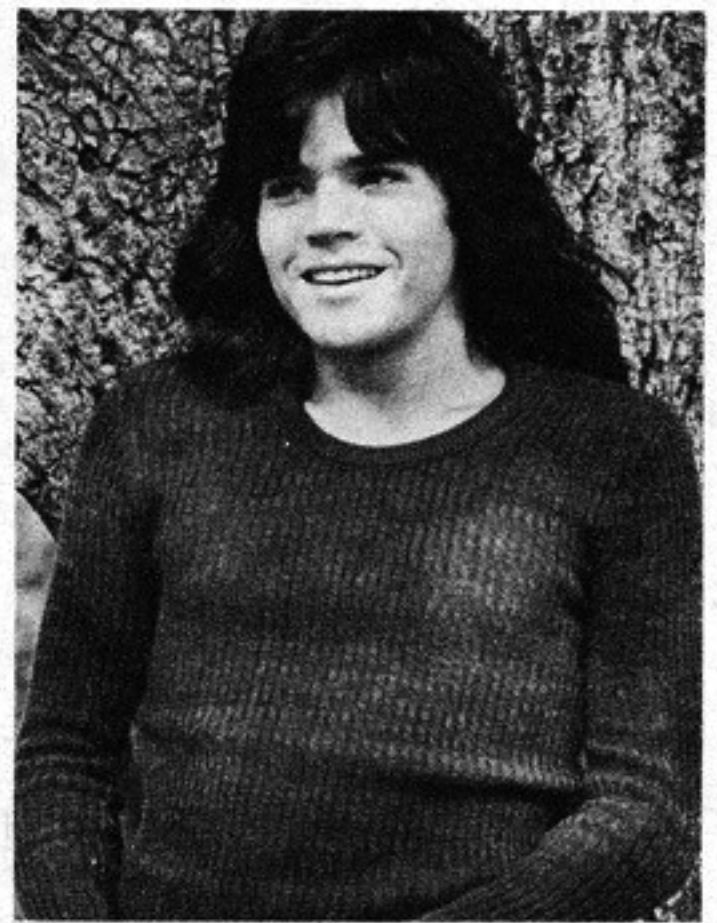

DAVID loved his dog SAM very much and was terribly upset at losing him. I'm sure you'll understand why we chose not to make the incident into a huge story that could only bring the memory of that terrible day back into DAVID'S mind, when he's trying so hard to forget it.

On a happier note, DAVID flew straight from his Hawaiian vacation to Chicago for two sold-out concerts there. What turned out to be a wonderful surprise for DAVID was the way I had made arrangements for our Puppy Contest Winner PATRICIA HARRIS to meet DAVID. PATRICIA had won SAM and SHEESH'S puppy TIGER, who really looked more like SAM than any of the other puppies. So, working with DAVID'S managers, we arranged for PATRICIA to meet DAVID in Chicago. DAVID thought he was just meeting another smiling fan when he noticed a bouncy dog at PATRICIA'S heels. "Bernie!" DAVID squealed! That was the name DAVID had given the puppy during the weeks before they were given away.

To say the least, DAVID was thrilled and was almost late for his evening concert because he wanted to keep playing with the dog. PATRICIA was thrilled too as she wrote me, "DAVID was nicer in person than I could have ever imagined. He met my parents too and now they're both fans along with me. The way he played with TIGER was really beautiful. When he told me about SAM dying, I wanted to cry, but he just said it made him feel so much better to get to see one of SAM'S puppies. It's a day I'll never forget. Thank you, ANN, for everything!"

STOP! Right now and run out to your nearest record store. Darling MICHAEL GRAY, who you've been eagerly reading about these past few months in TIGER BEAT is finally bringing a record out. It's a dynamite song and you won't believe how groovy MICHAEL'S voice is! It sure matches his good looks! I know you'll be as excited about MICHAEL'S first single as we are here at TIGER BEAT! Release date is set for the second week in January!

Finally! A record from Michael!

Meow

by Ann Moses

lands, spending most of his time on Maui, which many say is the most beautiful of all the islands.

A very sad thing happened to DAVID about two months ago and he asked that we wait to tell you about it so it wouldn't be quite so hard on him. So, rather than make it into a big story, which would only hurt DAVID more, I decided to tell you about it personally. You see, DAVID'S beloved dog SAM died about two months ago. The dog got into a fight with some other, bigger dogs and DAVID immediately took him to the veterinarian, who closed all the wounds and sent him home again. But three days later, SAM began to act as if he felt very tired. The next day they took him back to the animal hospital, but the infection had spread and there was no way to get it out. The veterinarian tried everything in his power, but SAM died that day.

DAVID loved his dog SAM very much and was terribly upset at losing

Donny in front of "Spook Alley."

I was visiting DONNY the other day while he was recuperating from his operation and the minute I walked in, he had to show me his scar. "It's a nice scar, DONNY," I told him and then he and MARIE couldn't wait to show me their latest project. It seems every year, no matter where they are, DONNY, JIMMY and MARIE are in charge of making a "spook alley." They devote one room to making a sort of horror house for everyone to go through on Halloween!

CONTINUED ON PAGE 74