

What kind of a student was David in grammar school? Junior high? High school?

David was a good student in grammar school, but full of mischief.

a fair student through the rest of school - he fluctuated - at times good to fair.

How do you feel about David's achievements today? Did you ever feel this would really happen to him?

David has always been an exceptionally talented person. He always wanted to be in show business. I am naturally very proud and happy for his success. I always felt David would be a success no matter what he did.

DAVID AND HIS MOM like to spend some free time just sharing each others company! She visits with him often!
