

True David Now!

continued from page 17

DAVID: "A lot of different things have been happening in my romantic life. I don't think my nights are 'weird and wicked' like that New York teenybopper mag says! For awhile, that bubblegum magazine was trying to link me with a certain blonde TV actress (whose name I shall not mention) just because we were seen at a few Hollywood parties together. But she wasn't my kind of girl at all. She was too interested in her career and what publicity she could gain by being seen with me. To tell you the truth, she was dumb and shallow. She had no personality and no feelings."

"Then another fan magazine kept running stories about me and this other actress (a brunette) who's on TV every week. Just to show you how publicity conscious she was, she used to save clippings of every time her face or name appeared in the magazines or papers with mine! To tell you the truth, those Hollywood girls are a bore! There's only been one girl in my life that I've ever really felt deeply in love with, and we broke up many months ago before I went to Europe. I guess in a way I went to Europe to forget her. She wasn't in movies or TV or anything, just a nice simple girl that I could talk to and who could understand me. So I know what true love can be and how rare it is. I believe that I must truly search for that special girl that I can share all my thoughts and dreams, and my life, with. One thing I can tell you right now. I'm still looking for her and I want to find her."

STAR: "David, thank you for this wonderful interview. All of our readers will feel they've really had a chance to talk with you and truly get to know the new you a little better!"

If you have more interview questions you'd like to ask David, write to him at STAR! Write to:
David Cassidy
c/o STAR Mag
P.O. Box 3329
Hollywood, Calif. 90028

