DAVID ANSWERS YOU!

CONTINUED

girl if one were with me, and I don't think she'd have a very good time!

HOW MUCH DO YOU LIKE BEING "DAVID CASSIDY?"

Bernadette

That's a really good question. I guess there are a couple of "David Cassidys." There's the character "Keith Partridge," and there's me. I like being me more than I like being Keith, but Keith isn't so different from myself that it's a drag or something! I like being myself, and I often wish that other people could experience what I've gone through—even if it was only to know how much love there is on the world! About the only time I wish my face wasn't so well known is when somebody gets self-conscious around me and can't talk! That's embarrassing for both of us!

SINCE THERE ARE SUCH A VARIETY OF SCENES IN "THE PARTRIDGE FAMILY," I WAS WONDERING IF THEY'RE FILMED IN THE SEQUENCE WE SEE THEM IN?

Films are shot completely out of order. At the beginning of each week we get a schedule that shows us which pages are being shot when, and where we're working. It takes so many people to make a film that if you've got a few scenes that all happen on a single set you just set up and shoot them all, and then move to another set. They're put in the right order later.

That makes it completely different from like acting on a stage. Onstage, you do the play all the way through, from beginning to end, but in films you could do the ending first and the beginning in the middle of the week! Sometimes you're not even sure where you are!

HOW IS YOUR NEW DOG, WILLY?

Well, he's Willy. We saved him from a guy who was really beating on him and taking terrible care of him, and I guess he's actually Sam's dog because Sam was the one who decided we had to get him away! He's a hound dog, bred for hunting, and he's really a country dog. He's got a few drawbacks—like he'd rather rip a couch apart than eat a steak, and his hobby is seeing exactly how far he can spread a bag of trash! Also, there is no fence in the entire world he can't get over if he wants to, and he always wants to! He's going to be absolutely gigantic, by the way.

But considering how frightened he was when we got him, he's doing just fine.

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE SONG OFF YOUR SOLO ALBUM?

Paul Miklusky
 Brooklyn, N.Y.

I guess it's "My First Night Alone Without You." I really love it! That was written, by the way, by Kim Vassey of Kenny Rogers and The First Edition.

DEAR DAVID: WHY?

Bernadette R. Tressa

*Dear Bernadette,
 Why not?*
