

with DAVID

By His Roommate SAM HYMAN

it really fixed his voice up! Now he drinks it constantly at recording sessions, and carries a little thermos to the studio with him! In fact, he's given up coffee completely, and this is the only hot drink he really likes any more. I can't dig it—I think it tastes like a lemon's nightmare! But David doesn't like my health-food milkshakes, either, so I guess we're even!

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, ANOTHER THING . . . David's got a new camera! It's a fantastic Japanese camera like one that Kenny Lieu used when he and David were in Hawaii! David's getting better and better at photography, and I don't think it'll be long before you'll see some of his pictures in TIGER BEAT! Maybe the next poster you get of David will be a self-portrait!

ONE MORE OTHER WHOLLY DIFFERENT COMPLETELY ANOTHER THING: David's most all-time favorite book is called Temple of Gold, and it's by a man named William Goldman. I won't tell you anything about it, because you really ought to read it—then when you and David finally meet each other, you'll have something to start the conversation with! It's a great book, and it's available in paperback!

DAVID LOVES: Sunshine . . . the sea . . . girls with loose, long hair and no make-up . . . the forests and beaches of Big Sur . . . people who speak their mind—even if it isn't always pleasant . . . laying in the sun until he goes to sleep . . . rock and roll music . . . letters from his fans.

DAVID HATES: Smog, and any kind of pollution . . . tinny-looking Christmas decorations in the streets . . . people who don't believe in anything . . . loud, sudden noises . . . real-estate developments carved into the sides of beautiful hills . . . Muzak . . . Mince pie . . . Spam . . . people who don't look him in the eye when they talk to him.

DAVID WOULD LIKE TO SEE: The whole world at peace . . . governments giving food to the less fortunate . . . the cosmetic industry to go out of business . . . clean air . . . the earth green again.

DAVID'S NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS WERE: To work harder at his acting and singing . . . to answer more of his mail . . . to be himself and stay calm even when things get crazy (like on tour) . . . and to remember at all times how lucky he is to have your love.
