strikes. And that means good, healthy food, plenty of rest, the right amount of exercise and regular check-ups with their doctor.

"It may seem like an awful lot of trouble," Donny says. "But I can tell you it's worth it. Being sick is no fun!"

DAVID'S TORTURE

RUMOR: David's biggest fear is of heights!

FACT: David's biggest fear is not quite that simple. It involves his very life's blood, entertaining. "I'm afraid of getting used up, not being able to do what I do best," David confessed. It certainly doesn't look to us like David will ever exhaust his talents.

RUMOR: The worst moment in David's life was when the Broadway show he was appearing in closed after only a few days!

FACT: Unfortunately, this rumor is not true. The worst moment in David's life was much more personal—it was when his parents got divorced.

RUMOR: David was a high-school drop-out!

FACT: David graduated from a private high school in Beverly Hills, California, called Rexford.

RUMOR: David can't sing!

FACT: Every word that comes out of his mouth is his own!

Well, rumors are always being spread, but we hope we've dispelled some of these awful ones going around about David. Next time you hear one, remember: being famous has its drawbacks. There are always going to be people trying to spoil the popularity of someone really special, someone you love—like David.

BOBBY'S PAST

When Bobby thinks back to this time, he gets sad and blue. More than anything he wants to be able to share himself with his devoted fans. And when incidents like this happen, he feels that maybe somewhere in the auditorium there were some kids who only wanted to get one good look at their favorite star—and couldn't. And this makes him the saddest of all.

BOBBY'S SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

One of the most terrible things that ever happened to Bobby was the cancellation of "Shindig," his first TV series, after it was on the air for two years. For awhile all the excitement that built up around Bobby while he was on that show mushroomed into many offers for personal appearances all over the country. Then one day it stopped—just like that! He was all of 23 and he thought his career was over. Bobby wrote songs, but none of them clicked. He wanted to work, but there was no work for him. He wanted to become an actor, but he didn't know how to go about it. Then after eight months of dejection and inactivity, Bobby was asked to appear on "The Monkees" and a few other television shows. And then one day he was offered the part of Jeremy Bolt in "Here Come the Brides" and he again skyrocketed to stardom. That awful time was over.

But the worst thing that kept bugging Bobby through that terrible period of not working was not being able to sing and act for his fans. "I love to entertain," says Bobby. "It's my whole life!" He knows, however, that you're always behind him. It would be pretty hard to forget somebody as dynamite as Bobby, wouldn't it?
