

DAVID THE GIRL I PLAN TO MARRY

If you're like most girls, you've done your share of daydreaming about the boy for you—the kind of boy you want for your own, someday. And sometimes, when you close your eyes and try to picture just what he'll look like, you see David Cassidy's face looking at you.

Just a dream? Maybe, but you still can't help wondering, what kind of a girl does David plan to marry?

Has he chosen her yet, or does he, too, daydream about a special girl he hopes to meet someday?

Of course, David doesn't have a lot of time for daydreaming, not with his busy work schedule. Most of the time, he is completely involved in his work, in rehearsing for The Partridge Family, in making records and going on personal appearance tours—a full schedule for anyone. But even so, there are times when, after a long day's work, he comes home to a quiet house, and his thoughts turn to a different kind of scene.

(Continued on page 59)