

DAVID SAYS:

“My Heart Throbs

When...”

... I think about the magic moments that will be ours to share someday soon.

... I'm feeling lonely and depressed and suddenly a vision of you passes through my mind and takes all my cares away!

... I get a letter from you revealing all your private thoughts and dreams.

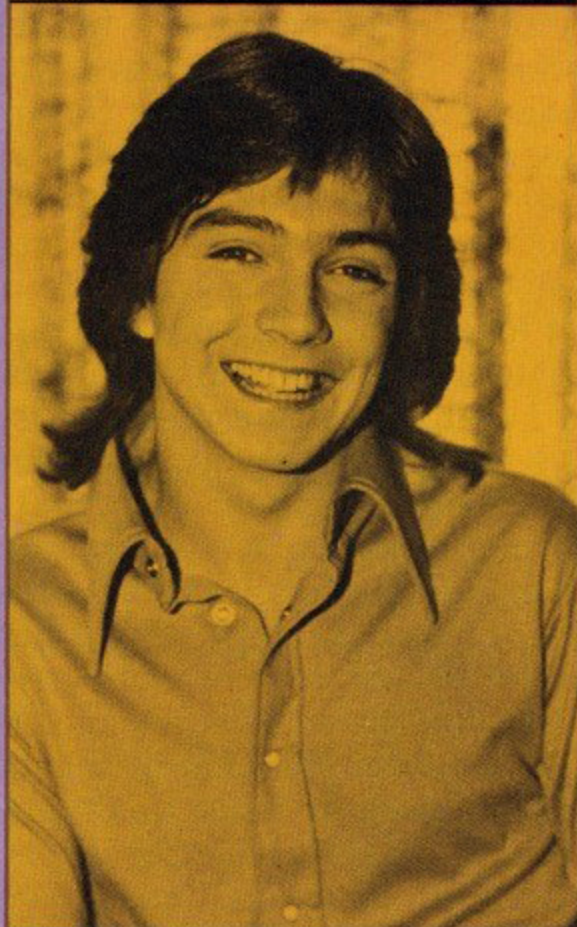

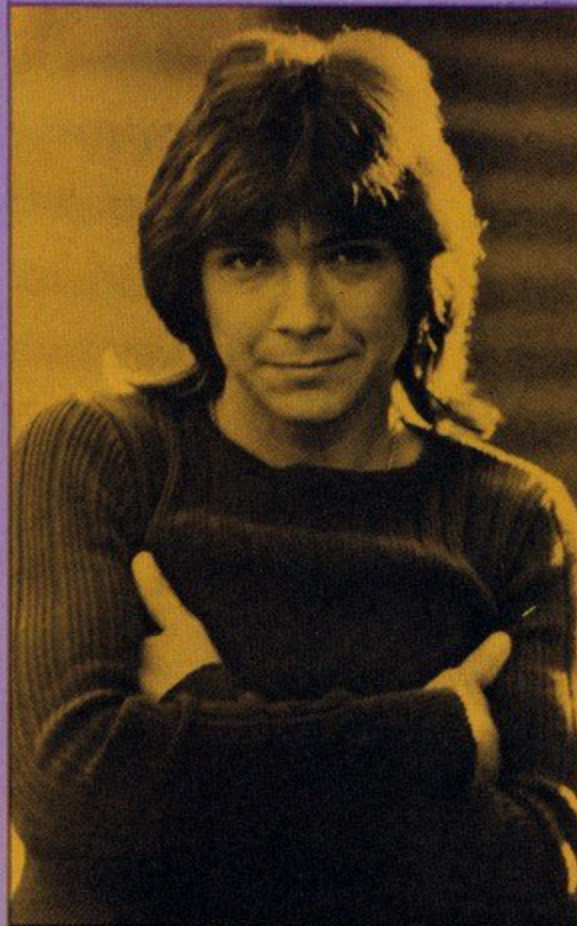

... You let me brush your clean silky hair for you!

... The twinkle in your eyes outshines the stars in the sky.

... I go into the recording studio to cut a new single I want to do just for you.

... I remember the first bouquet of flowers you sent me.

... I remember the time we were walking in the hills and you ran to the top just to pick me one special daisy.

... When I look at the macro-mase belt you made for me all by yourself.

... I think back to the time I couldn't see you because I was sick and all the funny get-well cards you sent me.

... You bring me an ice cream cone and you already know what flavor I want.

... I know I've said or done something to make you smile!

... Your face lights up with a beautiful glow because something has pleased you.

... I think of our first picnic at the beach and the neat little fire you made to grill our hot dogs over.

... I'm walking along the ocean shore with you at my side, our hands clasped tightly in each other's.

... I hear your voice whispering softly, "I love you!"
