

A Partridge Memory

CONTINUED

Susan and Jane arrived in California, and spent the next three days living with the Bonaduces! On the fourth day, however, the girls had found a beautiful house in Laurel Canyon, and they decided to move right in!

"I love it," Susan told me, as we were packing her clothes. "Thanks for letting us stay here. We enjoyed having a family for awhile."

By mid-season, however, the house in Laurel Canyon had lost some of its charm. "It's not that we didn't like the house, it's just that it was too small. We found a larger house, but it's still in Laurel Canyon, because we love the area!"

Suzanne's New House

Susan and Jane weren't the only Partridges to find themselves in new quarters this season! Suzanne Crough and her family moved into a big, beautiful house in Woodland Hills, not far from the Bonaduces!

Suzanne was so excited about the house, and I remember her saying, "I especially liked the swimming pool. I get to invite Danny over on the weekends to go swimming! I'm really lucky we live so close to each other!"

Danny The Magnificent

Danny's big accomplishment this season was his magic act.

"I practiced all season, so when I go on tour this hiatus, I'll be able to do magic acts. Dave Madden and my grandfather in Philadelphia have both taught me some great tricks."

Danny received an award at Magic Castle, in Los Angeles, for BEST COMEDIAN OF THE '71-'72 SEASON! The family was very proud of him, but Danny said, "I was really glad to get the award, and I thought Magic Castle was fantastic! My favorite part of the whole ceremony came at the end though... The magicians at the Castle, who are all involved with an organization called the College of Comedy, asked me if I'd like to do a magic act there! Maybe next year, I'll get an award for best magician!"
