

30 FAVES REVEAL: MY MOST FRIGHTENING

This month we asked 30 faves to dig into their pasts and come up with the most frightening thing that's ever happened to them. They came up with some surprising answers, some unusual ones, and some terrifying ones. Read on as we present their true responses, just for you!

EXPERIENCE

Donny Osmond

"The day of my recent appendectomy was really a frightening one for me. I never felt so sick and helpless before in my life. I was sure happy when it was finally over and I started to recover."

Bobby Sherman

"The morning of the California earthquake was my most frightening experience. When I awoke with my bed shaking and all the glasses clinking, I thought for sure it was the start of World War III!"

David Cassidy

"I remember when I went scuba diving in Hawaii and suddenly my mask filled up with water. Scuba diving was pretty new to me and I really got scared. Luckily I managed to get to the top quickly."

Michael Jackson

"My most frightening experience was the first time I stepped out onto a stage to perform. My knees were really shaking! But from that day on I've never been scared. I love to get out there now!"
