

The Dog David Couldn't Save!

David Cassidy loves dogs and his dogs love him. He and his best friend, Sam, always have several dogs around.

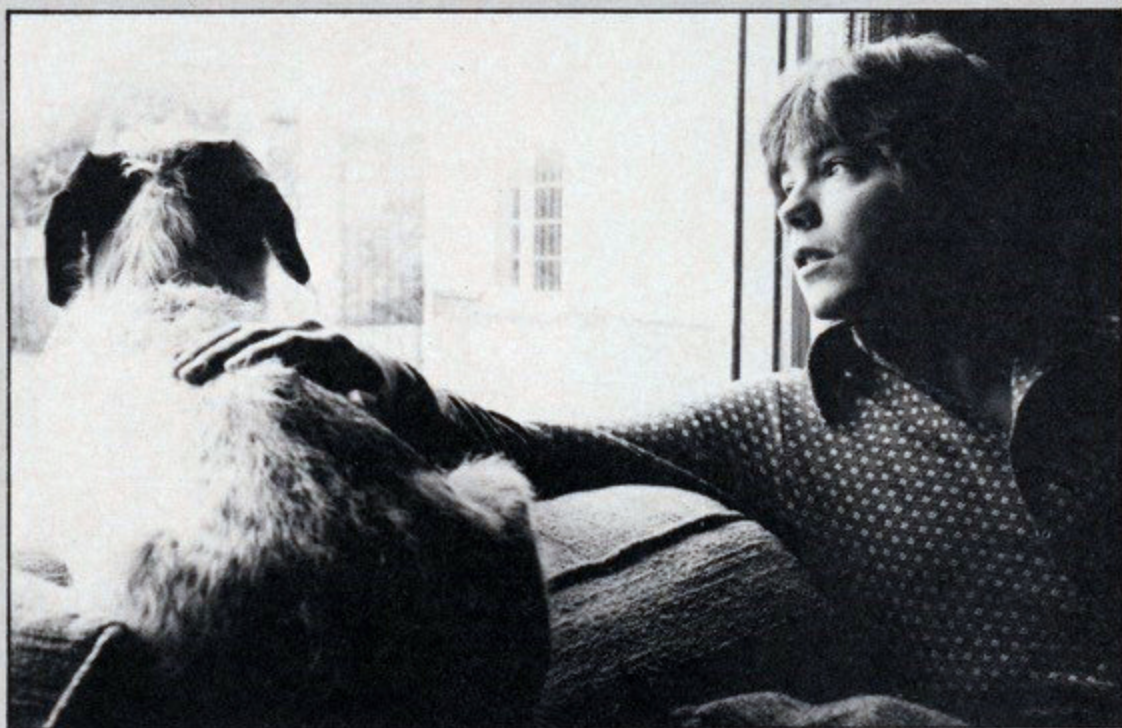

But David's luck with his dogs seems to turn to tragedy. Last fall he lost a dog, Sam, that he'd had for years. The dog got hurt in a fight and never fully recovered.

And now he's lost another one, this time to distemper. The dog was a lovely blonde female named Kula that Sam gave David for his birthday in April. It died during the summer.

David doesn't talk much about his dogs—but he truly loves them and he truly hurts each time he loses one.

Let's hope his luck with dogs will change!

3-Dog Day

Friday, July 14 was the day of the group's concert in the Los Angeles Forum, and in honor of that event, L.A.'s Mayor Sam Yorty proclaimed that day to be "Three Dog Day" in the city. Mayor Sam invited the group members to

City Hall to present his proclamation, but since the ceremony was several days before the Forum concert, Danny Hutton and Jimmy Greenspoon were still on vacation in the Virgin Islands and, hence, not in the picture with the Mayor!
