Yes, my act is changing, because I'm changing! I'm into all kinds of music—from middle-of-the-road to classical. I'd say that about half the time when I play a record I choose the Beatles—they take me back and I'm really into them. I also like Harry Nilsson, Linda Ronstadt and Randy Newman. Now I want my concerts to reflect their influence. Also, I love to play the piano and I find I'm writing a lot of songs these days on the piano. During my concerts, I play it for Two Time Loser—a song I wrote myself. A lot of people have told me that my concerts have really changed, but it's hard for me to notice—to me they've sort of evolved—not changed. All I can really say is that I feel so much love and warmth for my fans that I guess I've picked slower, more loving songs. I like to think of myself as an honest, sincere and positive person—but I'm always working to improve in these areas. Since you tell me these are qualities you care about too, I feel very close to you.
