

DAVID CASSIDY'S NEW PRIVATE PROBLEMS

Boy, you think you have troubles! You should try being David Cassidy these days. He's got it coming at him from two ways—and maybe even four ways to Sunday! I wouldn't be him right now for anything!

That's what we'd come to find out about. But we heard he had a new girl, who claimed to be a friend of David's. And now here was this young man.

"Oh, there's Jessie all right," the friend told us. "Jessie Pollack her name is, and she is the one bright spot in all of this. David really likes her—more than anyone else he's gone out with. I think. But you know what his schedule is—and what his record with the girls is. I mention them together because they affect each other. David's always on the move, doing concerts, and now trying to perfect a

(Continued on page 50)