

front of those enthusiastic audiences. You may get a chance to see them because they're going to tour all over the country, especially the eastern part!

Here's the latest on BOBBY

IF DONNY gets any more big hits, nobody else will be able to catch up!

SHERMAN. He's had three TV shows collapse in the last few years, and every time one falls by the wayside, people start mumbling that he is finished at last. Now that "Getting Together" has bit the dust, people with no faith in him were mumbling more than ever! BOBBY said he was even beginning to believe the rumors!

But not anymore. The latest report from BOBBY's manager WARD SYLVESTER is that he's seriously being considered to star in a Broadway musical called "Sorrow No More." It would mark a new turning point in his career, and would mean a chance to try out the bright lights of New York City's famous Broadway theatre. "I can't let myself get too excited, right now," BOBBY said. "After all it isn't everyday someone comes along with a musical. So I'm just taking one thing at a time." By the way, BOBBY said to say "thank you" for all the loyalty notes you've sent. You're the one who keeps him going!

There is a group that's been hanging around in the wings for several years now, making a few brief performances on center stage with such hits as "Mr. Bojangles." Well keep your ear on them because any day they are going to be making their big stab at stardom. They're called the "NITTY GRITTY DIRT BAND" and they're fantastic musicians who double equally well as comedians. One of the lead singers (he also plays guitar, mandolin, drums, and who knows what else!), JIM IBBOTSON, is the chief clown in the group. He loves to imitate different rock characters. But, according to JIM, that's something he picked up long before he ever heard of music groups.

"I was always the kid who
