

BOBBY! Do You REMEMBER HIM WHEN?

If you're a Bobby Sherman lover, you know how far he's come since the very start of his career. But how good is your memory for all the important highlights in Bobby's life? Do you remember when:

... he was fifteen years old and very determined to make it in the entertainment business! He already knew how to play 10 musical instruments and loved performing for parties and get-togethers!

... "Shindig" aired in 1968! A show that gave Bobby his first national recognition before it was cancelled!

... a very sad Bobby looked for work in Hollywood! Day after day he auditioned and read scripts until finally one day—another television show! "Here Come the Brides" and the beginning of a fabulous career!

... rumors were running wild in Hollywood. His co-star Bridget Hanley was linked to him in a supposed romance. Finally, Bobby convinced his public that he and Bridget were nothing more than good friends since they had met on the "Here Come the Brides" set.

... a very happy Bobby, rolled into the Columbia ranch in his brand new midnight blue Rolls Royce. The Rolls was Bobby's favorite new possession in his favorite new color. He loved driving his friends around and sharing it with them.

... a most excited Bobby walked out in front of an excited audience at the Forum in Los Angeles for a great concert. They were so thrilled with their fave that top security was called in.

... he sang his latest hit, "Julie Do You Love Me," on the "Don Knotts Show." And he designed the costumes he wore so that every detail of his performance would be perfect. The proudest moment of all was that his parents were able to come and sit in the audience.

... he does it again! This time its a sports car, not a limousine. Yes, Bobby presented himself with a shiny new bright green Targa Porsche. This latest addition to Bobby's garage is perfect for those moments when he wants to hit the open road.
