

DAVID: Is He A Good Lover?

ute to something completely different. If their suggestions are right he'll go along, but if he knows that it's wrong, he'll will get moody and stay that way until it blows over.

YES... because David likes to make up his own plans for a fun evening. He doesn't like to do what everyone else says they do, he likes to do what would fit you. David is very tuned into what different people like and dislike. So when he goes out with that special someone, he likes to pick something that would really fit her personality. One person might be perfect for a spectacular movie date, but someone else would be perfect for a quiet, out-of-the-way Italian restaurant.

NO... because, let's face it, sometimes there aren't enough hours in the day or in the week! We all know that David is one of the busiest faves around. When he finishes his work for the day, that's it. Even if he had the energy there just wouldn't be any time left over. Sometimes David is just too busy.

YES... because David really cherishes his home. And when he is planning that special weekend evening with someone like you, his favorite thing is to invite you to his own home, and make you feel a part of his life there. He is a great cook and he loves to have you sit comfortably while he works in the kitchen and talks to you in the candlelight. When he thinks you are special, he loves to treat you special.

NO... because being as busy as David is he has to meet with lots and lots of different business contacts, studio people, and agents. And after a typical day like that, he really appreciates a quiet moment alone. He needs those times when he can go home and quietly curl up with a good book, an old movie on TV or better yet, your fan letters. He knows he can't possibly answer them all but he loves to read them and find out more about you.
