

David-

Greetings, fellow sun lovers—and welcome to the land of the California sun!! Here's our boy—leapin', jumpin', dash-in' David Cassidy himself—giving you a chance to share some of his audacious outdoor antics! Though David gets plenty of exercise each weekend when he does live concerts for you all over the U.S.A.—he still occasionally manages to spend a little time at home around the pool and to get in some body-building, muscle-making exercise. When David was a young teenager, he not only raced go-carts and played basketball, he was also a star Little League player. And you can bet your sneakers that even though David is terribly busy making music and TV for you, he still finds time to get a little summer funtime-suntime exercise now and then. So don't just sit there—jump right in with David and join in the fun!
