

"I FEEL ONLY HALF ALIVE!"

getting in the way...if you've got one thing you really love, it means more to you than a whole houseful of things that you probably can't remember buying!

BE FREE!

Anyway, material possessions are definitely not where it's at. After the novelty of having them wears out, they're just things to worry about, or take care of, or haul around with you! In fact, if there's one thing I've learned, it's that having things really ties you down—and I like to be free!

And I think that's what really bugs me. I need to be free! Everybody thinks that stars are as free as anybody in the world, I guess—but it's not true! I've got a schedule that would wear out an Olympic athlete!

Five days a week, I begin working at six in the morning, and often I don't finish before ten at night. On weekends, I work an eighteen hour day doing concerts and traveling!

I love all this work—especially the concerts—but the point is that I can't do anything on an impulse! I'm a very spontaneous person—but if I just get the urge to do something now, I leave fifty people out in the cold, because they're all depending on me to be there! Sometimes I feel like a middle-aged business executive!

I think that the thing that really turned me on was the challenge of making it, fighting against huge odds to become somebody special! It was the climb to success that mattered... the success itself isn't all that you might think it is!

YOUR LOVE

With one exception... you! The one thing that I can't feel any way but ecstatic about is the discovery of your love. Whenever I really get down in the dumps (which I do, from time to time) I just think about you, or spend fifteen minutes with your letters, and that's the medicine that saves me!

And I guess that's the way I really have to think about it! The real pay I get for the work I do has nothing to do with money! It comes to me in letters, in conversations on the streets, in the waves of applause from audiences all over the country. The thing that makes it all worthwhile—and the thing in which I'm really rich is love!

And you know what? I feel more alive just thinking about it!
