

couple is about to reconcile—since Jack also spends a lot of time with YVONNE CRAIG.

Speaking of the Cassidy clan, DAVID CASSIDY has a new press agent. Wasn't the change made at the request of Screen Gems execs, who turned every color of the rainbow when they read that candid (too candid, they felt) interview David gave to Rolling Stone magazine? And what about those nude photos David posed for? For more revelations see our story on page 30.

The Guessing Game: Somebody David knows quite well, a young actress with a wholesome image, also has a set of nude pics in her past. She claims she never posed for them, but she ought to check with that photographic agent in New York who has been peddling them to all the magazines before she says "never" too loudly!

Watch for a big shake-up on the Marcus Welby, M.D. set. My Universal sources report that ROBERT YOUNG wouldn't mind retiring from TV for good—maybe wife BETTY's recent illness made him decide that enjoying himself and his family is more important than a career. And Robert is at that retiring age—he just turned 65... Meanwhile, JIM BROLIN is making lots of talk about how he'd like his own show, at least, and a film career at best... I just caught Jim's big screen bow in Skyjacked... and I think that the TV doctor needs a bit more acting internship before he can operate on his own!

The BURTONS are getting ready for their TV-movie bow, and they'll play a divorcing husband and wife (how fabulous) in two films to be shown the same week, a "his" version of the split starring RICHARD, and a "hers" account starring LIZ... and between them, the Burtons are committed to about ten films that are definite; so don't worry about those "retirement" plans Liz spoke of a while back.

Things are so rarely what they seem that I wouldn't even worry about MICHAEL WILDING, JR. True, he and his wife gave up the English home Liz bought them to the tune of seventy thousand dollars and bought instead a Welsh farm where they've started a commune... It's easy to be communal when you have a seventy thousand dollar head start!

RAQUEL WELCH seems to be having lots of troubles these days—and more are in store. She's had lots of minor spills in addition to the fall that broke her wrist while learning to skate for Kansas City Bomber, and now she's being sued for fifteen million dollars because the film, using the word "bomber" in the title, hasn't been approved by the national Roller Derby organization. BOB EVANS has been lending a friendly ear to Raquel's troubles—while wife ALI MacGRAW is away in Texas working on Getaway with STEVE McQUEEN.

The Guessing Game:

When three acting veterans get together, there's bound to be some friendly conflict, and Jimmy Stewart is the object here of Henry Fonda and Robert Young's attentions.

James Daly of CBS' Medical Center, in all his gray-haired sophistication, makes a nice couple with popular and very beautiful model, Corinne Camacho, at bash at CBS studios.

Angel Tompkins, one-time date of Johnny Carson, will star in a new TV series next season. The show will be called Probe, her co-star Hugh O'Brien. Date's Dennis Weaver.
